The Sweet Life

Southern pines swayin'
in the wind
Seem to whisper,
"Hello, young friend."

Magnolias, azaleas and
Charlie Bear,
Beauty — beyond compare.

Brumfield and Kenna and
Vo-Tech too.
All is here,
it's for you.

Library, Math, Science, and Fine Arts —
It's important
be a part.

Student Union, Chapel,
and the Bears' Den, Anywhere —
you'll find a friend.

A record of glad times
and sad times, too.
The WHISPERING PINES — 1982—memories just for you.

The familiar pine tree is the symbol of beauty; the bridge, sturdy friendship; the Math and Science Building, knowledge.

Liz Szymanski gives Willie Moak a taste of old-fashioned vanilla ice cream at the PTK Banana Split Party.

Debbie Van, Freshman Redliner, anticipates the coming halftime show.

The Bear football team stands earnestly during the pre-game national anthem.

Freshman cheerleader, Kelly Hogan raises her hands in support of the mighty Bears.

Paige Lampton solemnly awaits the end of another night and another loss.

CHARLIE BEAR — SMJC'S LOVED MASCOT

Pool is a popular game, among many, played in the Student Union.

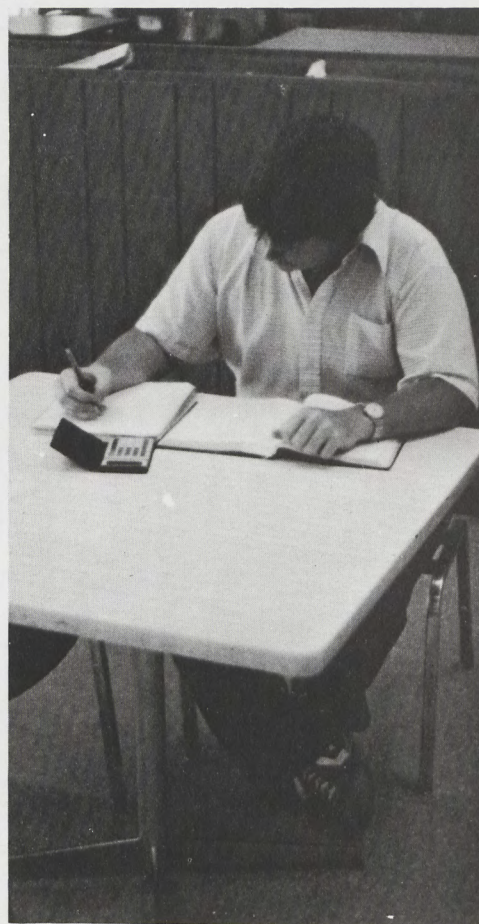

Some of the Bear football games bring out the animal in us.

Hectic, But Fun

Life at Southwest has both peaks and valleys. One minute, your spirits are at the top most branches of a towering pine. The next minute, they're at the roots. Like when a frazzled student has three major tests on the same day. Or he loses his I.D. for the fourth time in one week. Or he doesn't get his girlfriend back to the dorm before the 1:00 curfew and she doesn't speak to him for two days.

It's all a part of SMJC life. DON'T PASS IT UP.

Loria Ratcliff buys necessary school supplies from Mrs. McCafferty in the bookstore.

The bad times are balanced by the good times. Exhilaration abounds when the mighty Bears bring home a victory. Fun can be had simply by sitting in the Union playing cards. The good times at the Get Acquainted Dance and the Homecoming Dance will never be forgotten. The self-satisfaction and good grade on a term paper also will not be forgotten. DON'T PASS IT UP.

Registrar Charles Breeland takes a coffee break before returning to the hectic registration process.

Registration became a group affair as Amy Van Dan, Libby Smith, and Thomas Plunkett get advice from Mrs. Sue White.

Freshman Redline members snuggle to keep warm before the halftime show.

The Bears struggle for yardage against East Mississippi.

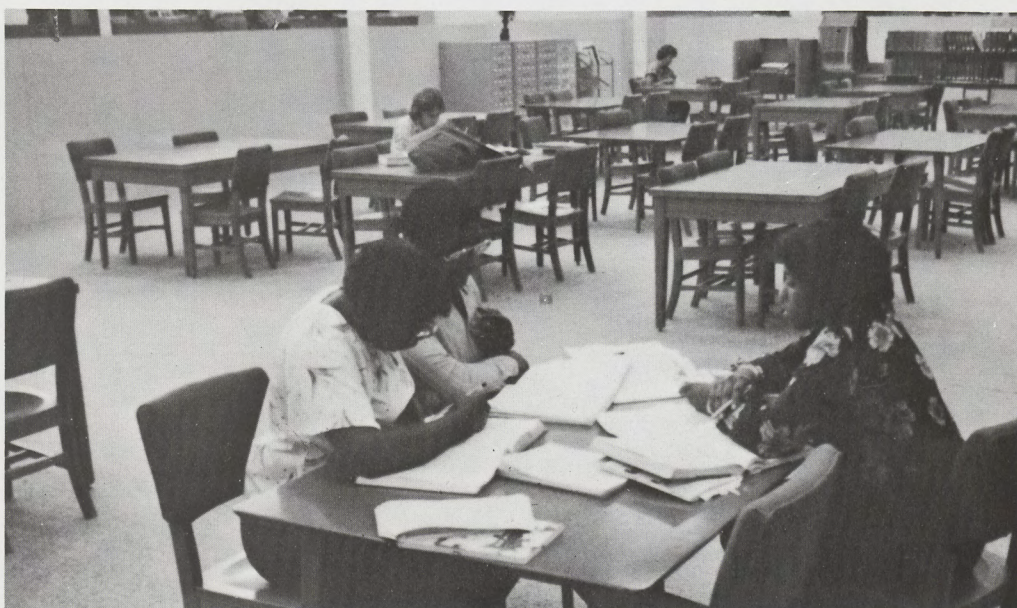

Don't pass it up
Don't pass it up

Becky O'Quinn, loaded with books, strolls from her morning classes in the Brumfield Building.

Mary Nell Brumfield and Robin Kearly head for the concession stand during a football game time out.

Dean of students, Jerry Reid takes a box of programs to the demanding Bear supporters.

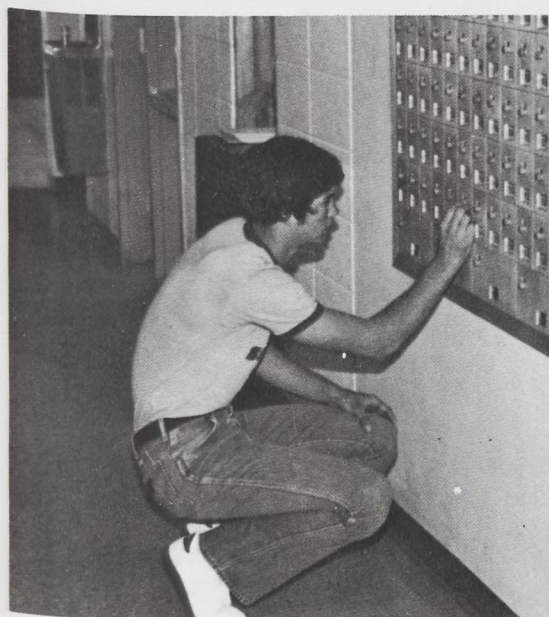

The Learning Resource Center provides an atmosphere for both individual and group learning.

The Bear Band and Redline cheer the bears to a 41-0 victory over Coahoma.

Mrs. Martha Young gives change to Freshman Ruthie Minton in the Student Union.

Sophomore Louis Sturgeon finds a long-awaited letter in his mailbox.

The bad times should be remembered as learning experiences. The good times should be looked back upon with a smile. These are the most joyous, carefree years of your life. Most of us will never experience this again.

SMJC = [OPPORTUNITY (SOCIAL + ACADEMIC)]

Bear fans crowd the stands to support them in their attempt to capture a victory.

The Bear cheerleaders are always near to boost the team's spirit.

Don't pass it up
Don't pass it up
Don't pass it up

Whether you're at the highest peak of happiness or at the lowest point of sadness and dissatisfaction, you feel something. You're not a spectator who sits on the sidelines. You are a vital, involved SOUTHWEST BEAR — DON'T PASS IT UP!

Belinda Mize and Susan Bellipanni hurry back to the dorm after their morning classes.

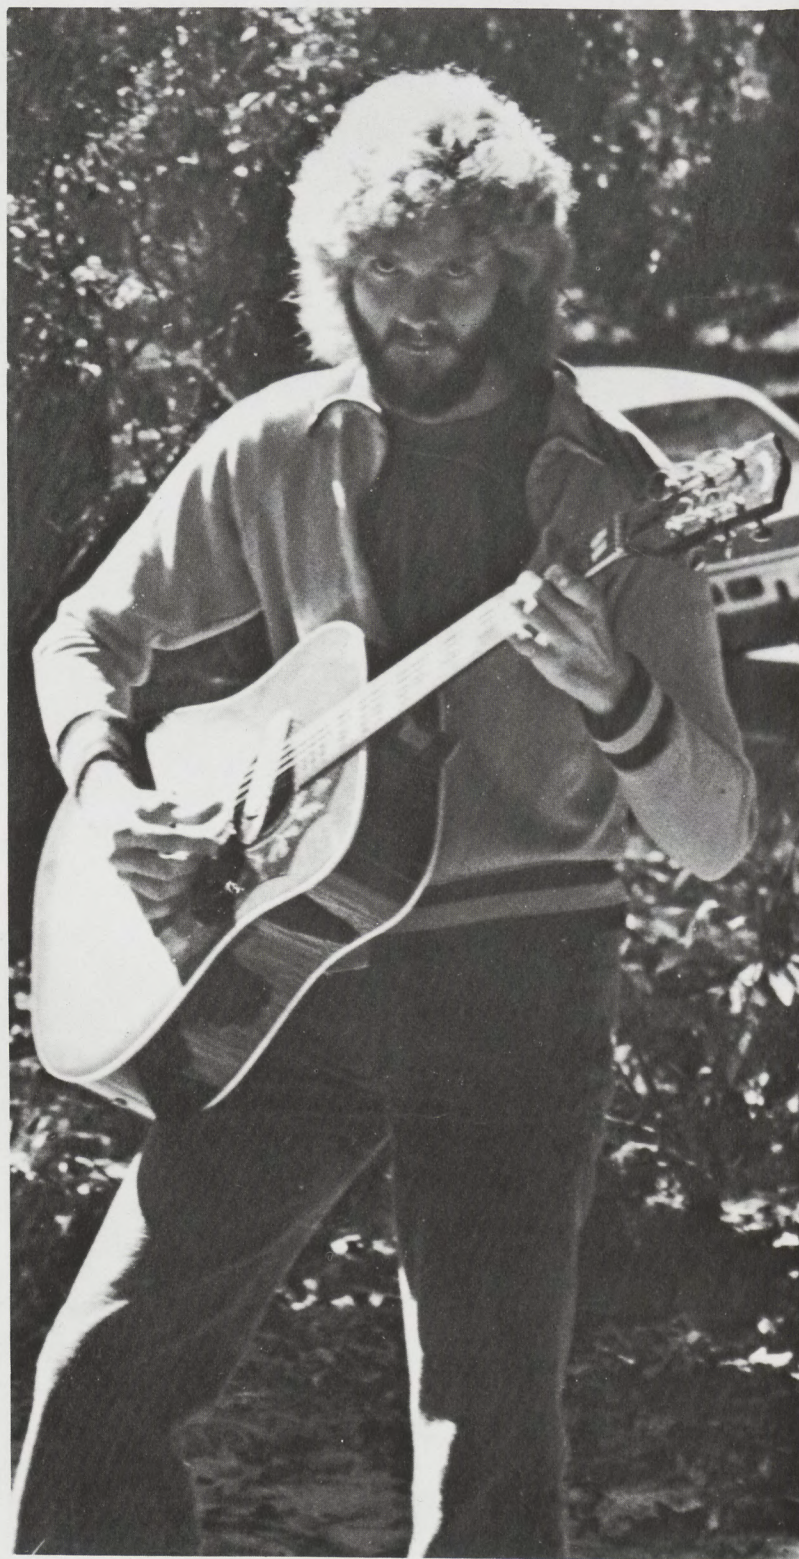

Mrs. Virginia Marcus helped ease the registration pressure with a reassuring smile.

Tamara Hadi and Kim Stringer watch as Robin Fortenberry plays her favorite game in the Union.

Visitors add a sense of mystery as well as excitement as they tour the campus. This unidentified musician provided a tune for a crowd.

Kimmi Adams and Mike Heitzman enjoy the peacefulness of Bear Lake.

Akio Fukazawa, of Tokyo, Japan, one of the many foreign students here spreads his culture and absorbs the Southern hospitality throughout the year.

The student life at SMJC is filled with ups, downs, and surprises beyond any expectations.

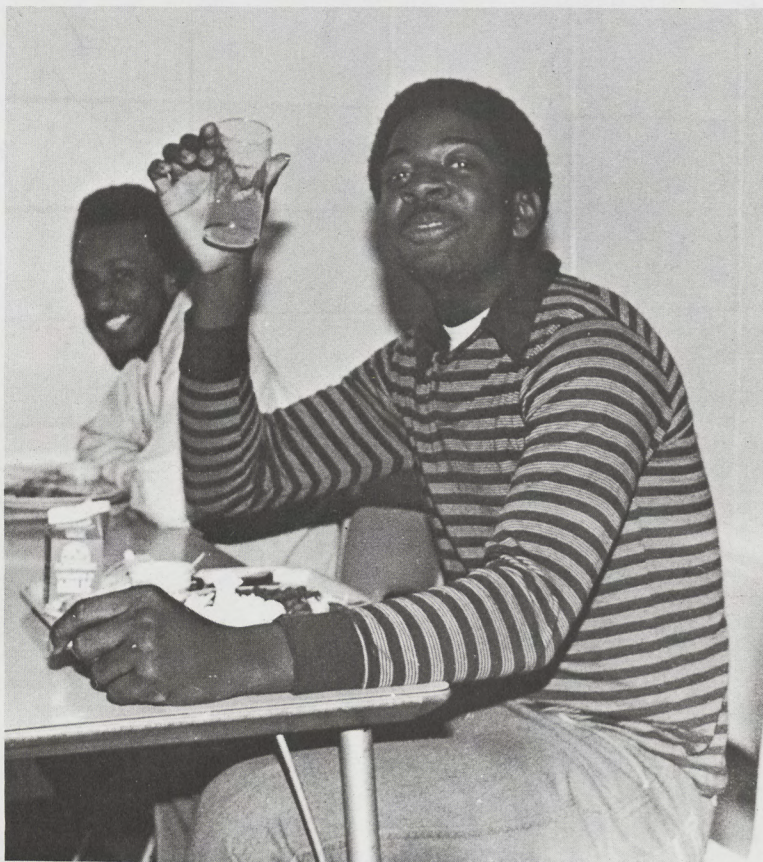

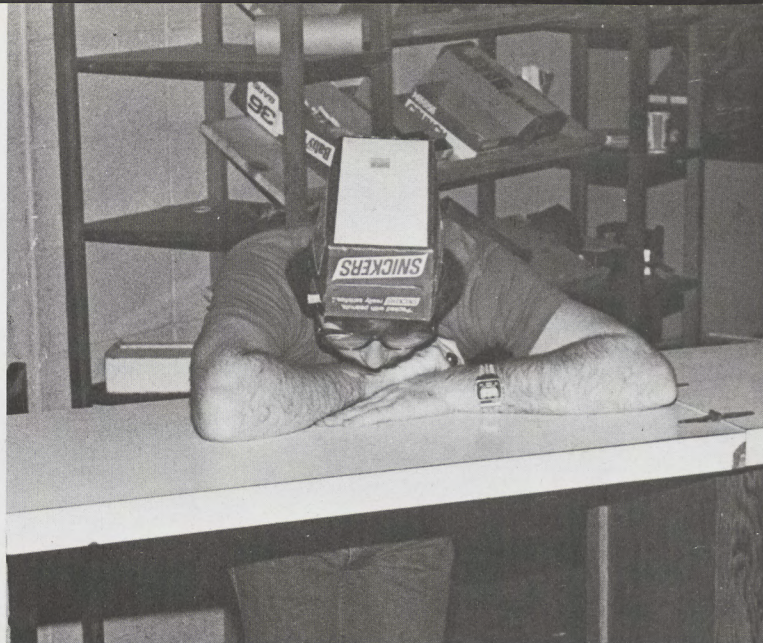

The students on SMJC's campus are always making things happen whether it's in the cafeteria or girls' dorm.

This campus would not be as exciting and fun filled if it weren't for the students here.

The opportunities here, both social and academic are too good to pass up.

Mitch Simmons returns to his "Home Sweet Home" after a day of classes.

Byron Montgomery takes a big bite of Mrs. Pope's red beans and rice.

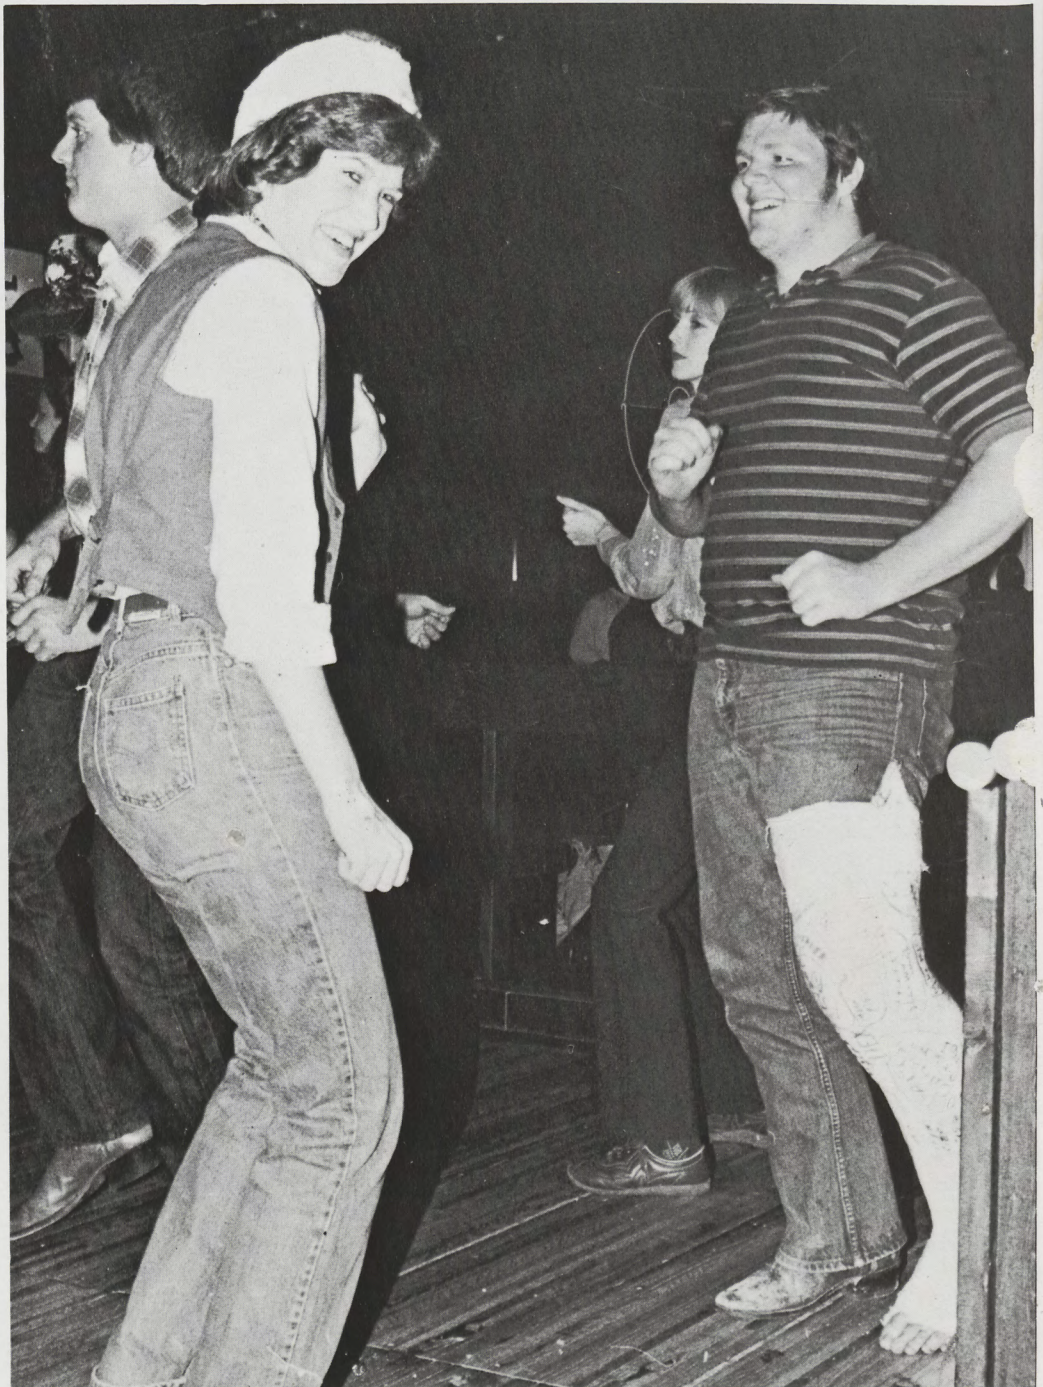

T-Joe Preameaux, Angie Hightower and other Bears crowded the dance floor to dance the night away.

Dawn Martin and Colleen Stringer enjoy the socializing as well as the dancing at Cowboy McCool's.

Martha May discovers that a broken leg doesn't keep Trey Magee from dancing at the pre-Christmas celebration at Cowboy McCools.

Bears Celebrate Pre-Christmas at Cowboy's

Friends—new and old—gather at Cowboy's for fun, friends and dancing.

Laurie Kirkfield and Kim Esté manage to give a unique season greeting wish.

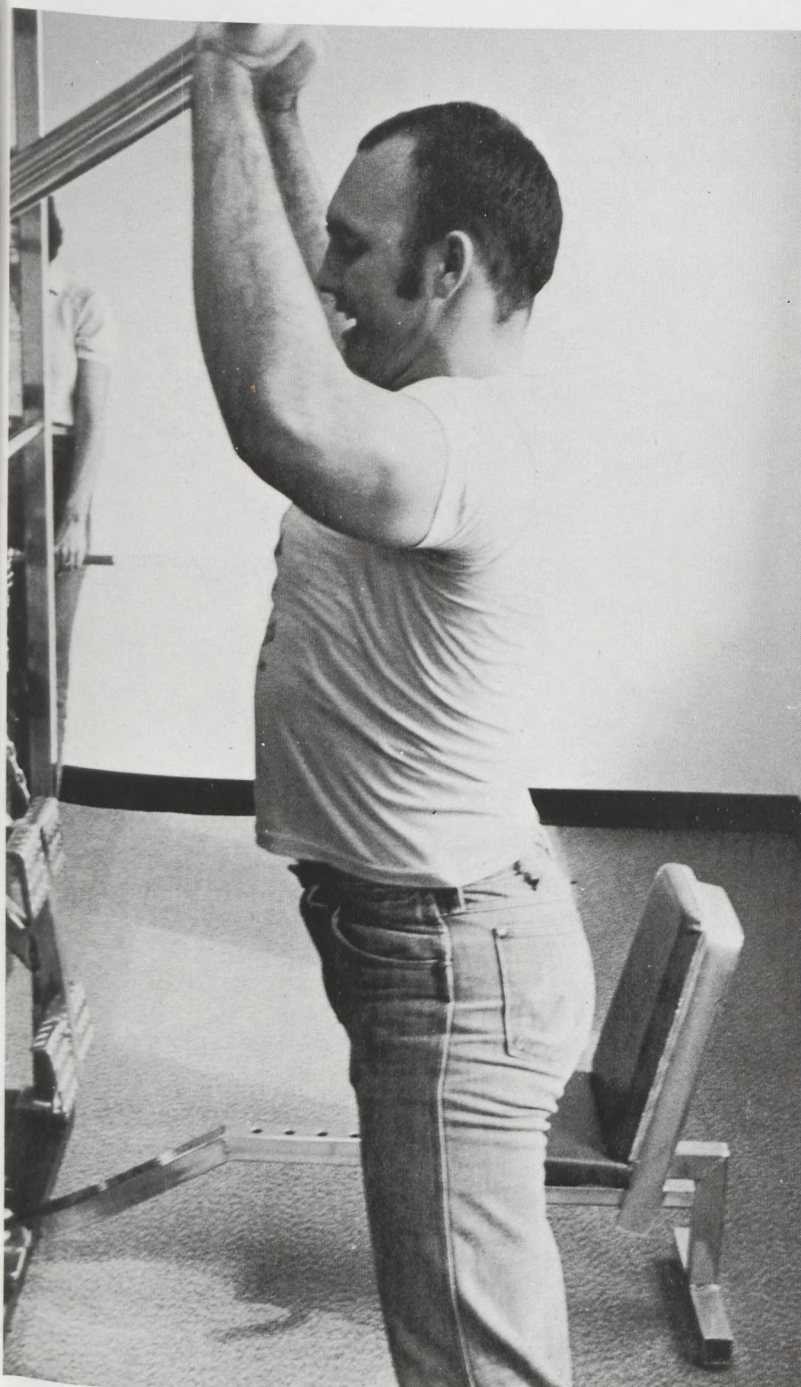

Charlene Hay listens intently as roommate Mignon Wilson serenades her.

The Masquerade dance provided an opportunity for Colleen Stringer and Tonya Landry to show their true selves—babies at heart.

Life at Southwest is full of surprises, and the people are the ones who make it that way. There are all types of people at SMJC. Those who excel in their personal fields are rewarded in different ways. Some of them are featured in this section —DON'T PASS IT UP.

Mr. SMJC Kyle Hux

Kyle, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Hux of McComb, attended McComb High School. Lettering in football two years and baseball three years, Kyle was honored in McComb's Who's Who in sports. Not only was Kyle a member of these teams, he was also a member of God's team incorporated in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

At Southwest, Kyle was Freshmen class favorite and serves as a Bear football team co-captain. Kyle was a member of the Jr. College All-Star team and was chosen as an All-State player. He is also a member of both the FCA and BSU.

Upon graduating, Kyle plans to extend his athletic administration studies at a major university.

Miss SMJC Tonya Rawls

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Rawls of Magnolia, Tonya is a graduate of Walthall Academy. At WA, she held many honors including Miss Congeniality, best dressed, cutest and was a homecoming maid for several years. Tonya served as newspaper editor and Patriotic American Youth Secretary as well as class officer and cheerleader.

As a marketing major at Southwest, Tonya spends her time wisely as a member of the Red Line, King's Kids, Baptist Student Union, and the Student Government Association where she serves as Sophomore class secretary. She plans to attend the University of Southern Mississippi after graduation.

Larry is the son of Mrs. Robbie McRaney and the late Mr. Harold McRaney of Gloster. He attends the United Methodist Church. He attended Pine Hills Academy, where he held such honors as Mr. PHA, Most Intellectual, and most likely to succeed. He also played an active role in student government. At Southwest he continues his active role in student affairs as SGA vice-president and a member of PTK.

October 24 ... A Memorable Event

Promises of Tomorrow proved to be the perfect theme for homecoming 1981. The band accompanied as Tamara Abdul-Hadi of Baker, Louisiana, was presented to a packed stadium of Bear supporters. Larry McRaney of Gloster, Ms., escorted Miss Hadi as applause overcome the announcers' comments of the queen's accomplishments and plans.

President Horace Holmes then escorted the preceding queen Vivian Reynolds, who is a junior at the University of Southern Mississippi, across the fifty-yard line. Vivian then placed the crown on Tamara's head, and at the moment a dream came true.

Tamara Abdul-Hadi of Baker, Louisiana served as 1981 Homecoming Queen.

The S.M.J.C. band supports and entertains at the Bear football games.

Kimmi Adams, sophomore red-liner, proves that concentration during the half-time entertainment results in a job well done.

The Bear flag corps learns that practice does make perfect in some performances. Here, Colleen Stringer, Tonya Landry, Vicki Welch, and Susan Bellipanni review basic skills.

From Practice ... to Performances ... to Parades—Bear Band Does It All

Throughout the 1981 football season, the band provided outstanding entertainment for all who attended the Bear contests.

Not only did the band perform for audiences at football games, but they also were the main attraction at the pep rallies, the Pike County fair and various parades. These parades included local Christmas and homecoming celebrations. Have you ever wondered how a performance is put together? Practice, organization, and leadership were the keys to S.M.J.C.'s band success. Capable leadership on the field were Drum Majors Robin Fortenberry and Angie Hightower. Behind the scenes of a performance is the band director, Mr. Shelton Whittington, who is often known as "Mr. Whit". This man's positive incentive makes the S.M.J.C. band a group with common goals: entertainment, fun, and support.

Although the Wesley Foundation is rather small—it's love and christian fellowship is enough for the whole SMJC campus. Here, Mrs. Frances Murry—faculty advisor, Christ Little, Chris Barrett, Rev. James McCafferty—sponsor, Steve Holston—president, and Nathan Martin share their testimonies at Weekly Bible study.

God's Will For Me

Just to be tender, just to be true,
 Just to be glad the whole day through,
 Just to be merciful, just to be mild,
 Just to be trustful as a child,
 Just to be gentle and kind and sweet,
 Just to be helpful with willing feet,
 Just to be cheery when things go wrong,
 Just to drive sadness away with a song,
 Whether the hour is dark or bright,
 Just be loyal to God and right,
 Just to believe that God knows best,
 Just in his promised ever to rest—
 Just to let love be our daily key,
 That is God's will for you and me.

Baptist Student Union Offers Fellowship For All.

Baptist Student Union offers all students an opportunity for a personal growth through worship services, Bible studies, socials, and local, state, and national student retreats and conventions. They also have the opportunity for service through student summer missions, missions giving, community missions projects, singing groups, and other ministry groups. Through the BSU executive council and committees, students have the opportunity to be involved in the planning and carrying out of the BSU program. As a result of the BSU experience, students hopefully enjoy Christian fellowship, and a maturing of their Christian life.

B.S.U. President Trent Forman welcomes a new comer to S.M.J.C.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes is Formed at SMJC

The Southwest Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes through the work of its president, Carroll Brown, and the work of the state director, Gary Beets, had its first meeting this past spring. Since then it has grown from a dream of a few players and coaches in the weight room to a vital part of life at SMJC.

FCA is composed of individuals working as a team. Each offer the others strength, support, and the opportunity to grow in Christian faith. Athletes share their commitments to Jesus Christ through the common bond of sports.

Meetings have been composed of a variety of programs including films, tapes, and guest speakers. At recent meeting, Billy Andrews, an eleven-year veteran of professional football, presented his testimony and ideas. Sponsor of the club are Coach Davis and Coach Ogden.

The purpose of the organization is to "present to athletes and coaches, and all they influence the challenge and adventure of receiving Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord, serving Him in their relationships and in the fellowship of the church."

FCA President Carroll Brown said, "One unique aspect of the Southwest FCA Chapter is the fact that our meetings are open to everyone."

S.G.A. Serves the Students

The Student Government Association is the voice from the students to the administration. Although sometimes unsuccessful in achieving their goals, their aims stay high in all aspects of SMJC life.

The 1981 S.G.A. is sponsored by Dean Jerry Reid. Serving as treasurer is Lisa Alford of Magnolia. Secretary is Angie Hightower from Tylertown. Beverly Jackson of Summit serves as President and Larry McRaney of Gloster is Vice President.

The Pine Burr Staff

Busy Year But Very Rewarding

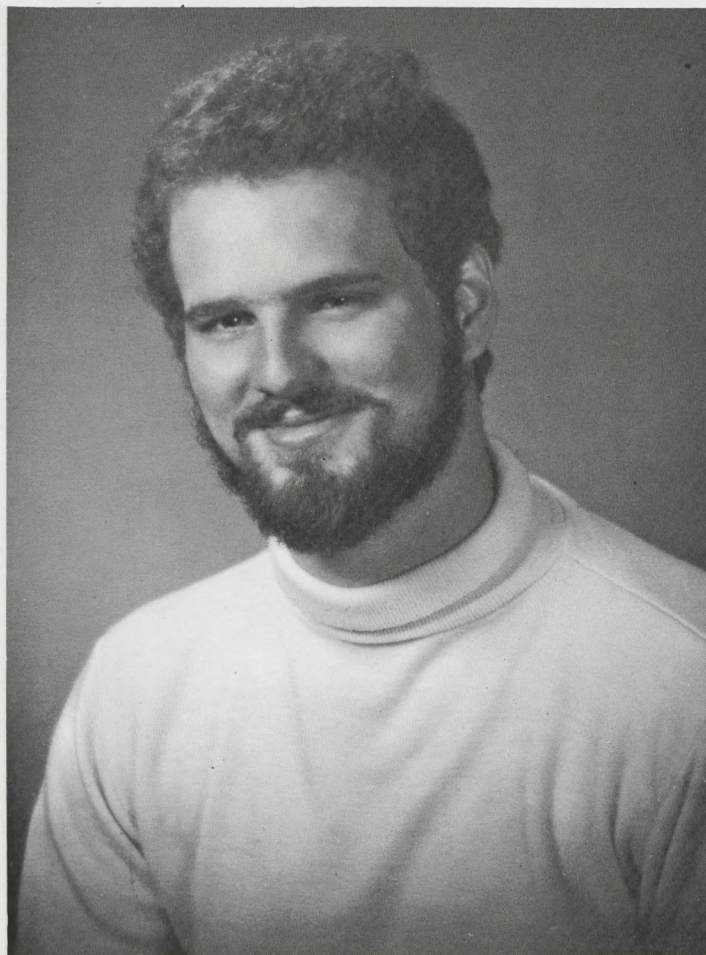

"Credibility, accuracy, and concern for public interest constitute an ideal concept of journalism." This statement has been the motto of the Pine Burr staff for the past year.

My year as Pine Burr editor has been busy, but also very rewarding. During this time I've learned a great deal about cooperation. Putting out a newspaper is nothing if not a team effort. Thanks to everyone who contributed and gave support.

At the Enterprise Journal, Mr. O'Brien and Karen have my deepest gratitude for all they did to help me.

And finally, to Mildred Craig, the advisor of the newspaper and the driving force behind it (and behind me when necessary), a thousand sincere thanks. The purpose of any newspaper is to inform and service its community. I hope that the student body feels that the Pine Burr did that for SMJC.

Cheerleaders Boost Spirit— Win or Lose.

Overlooked by many, the Bear cheerleaders were there when the Bears won and when they lost. They backed their team through thick and thin. They suffered with them when defeat entered the stadium and celebrated with the Bear when winning, whether by one point or twenty.

Under able captain Sonya Smith, the 1981 cheerleaders proved to be the most spirited squad yet. When football season first began, Sonya began her hard work to get the Bear team fired up for the upcoming season. As the year progressed, she was joined by the other sophomore cheerleaders.

When school finally got into full swing, four freshmen were elected. These added to the spirit abounding squad.

Bears of '81'

Football Managers of 81. Eddie Baker; Bruce Coffey; Perry Ball

The 1981 Southwest football team ends the season with a 3-7 record. The record doesn't reflect the team's hard work. For example, the 20-13 loss to Pearl River was one of the Bears' best games but bad luck and fumbles precluded a victory.

Homecoming spirits were squashed by Pearl River as the Wildcats took advantage of four Bear fumbles for a 20-13 win.

In the Bears game against East Central in Decatur, injuries hurt Southwest offense. With only one tight end and two unhurt running backs, Southwest rushed for 130 yards and ECJC for 137. Fumbles smashed the Bears for a 29-19 loss.

The Bears defeated the Eagles at Hinds Jr. College with a win of 13-7.

The Bears ended the season with a 10-7 victory over 2nd place northern division Mississippi Delta Trojans.

The Homecoming Spirit prevailed even though the Bears were defeated.

Lady Bears Basketball

Winning
Ways
Weren't
In
The Cards
For
The Lady
Bears

Quineller Owens jumps above a Pearl River Wildcat to score in the unsuccessful attempt to win.

The Lady Bears, although promising winning ways at the season's beginning, had the positive attitude and the determination to win but somehow could not put the two together to complete a winning season. Cooperation from all involved, many said, might have had the results the team had hoped for.

As Coach Jimmy Nail entered his first year as the ladies' leader, he too, had many hopes for future success. Some Bears thought that with the new coach, the new plays, and the new rules, a winning season was inevitable. They thought wrong. The Lady Bears ended with a record of 5 wins and 12 losses.

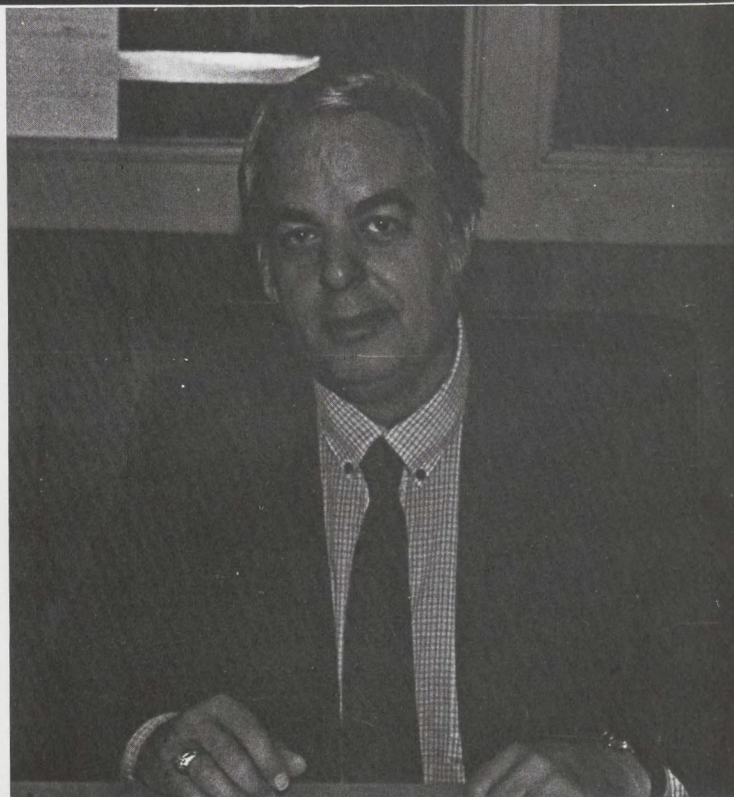

Mary Ann Toney drives in for a lay up as Jones defenders invade the Bears' den.

Mens Basketball

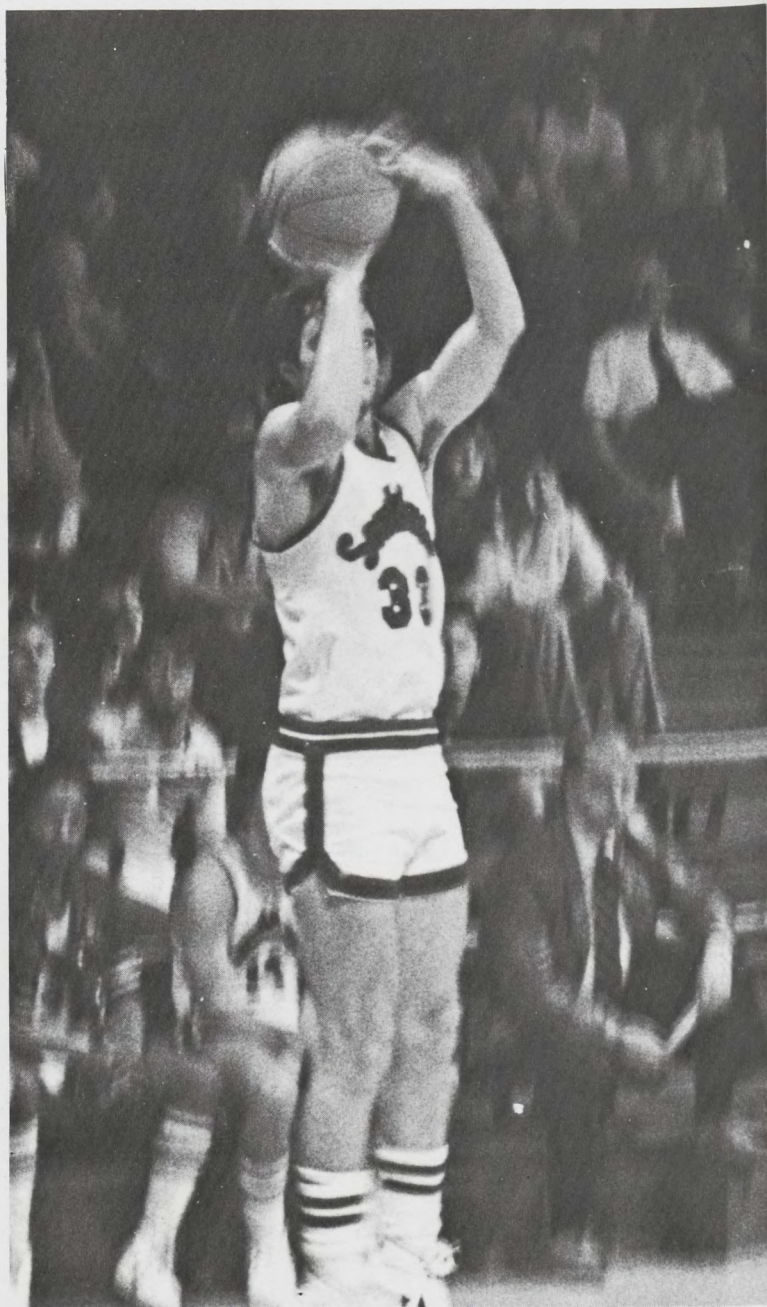

William Travis shoots a free throw that can sometimes determine a win. Here S.M.J.C. had no trouble squashing Clarke 68 to 51.

James Martin lays one up for the Bears.

New Coach, New Plans, A Great Combination, One Not To Be Passed Up.

Southwest Men's basketball got off to a good start this year with a new coach. Usually many adjustments must be made with a switch in leadership, but coach Howard Corder has led the Bears well this season. Through many hours of hard practice and preparation for each game, the Bears have emerged as a great team. Spirit was held high throughout the basketball season by the untiring cheerleaders and Bear fans.

Go ahead Mark, you can do it.

Steve Worthy shoots to score for the Bears.

Mark Swindle shows his unique style of shooting while scoring 2 points for the Bears.

David Candilora sees his chance and refuses to pass it up.

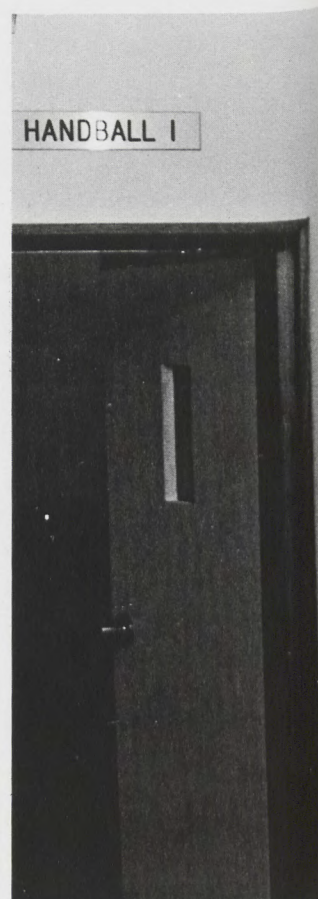

Open house for the new Physical Activities Building was held Homecoming Day. Many, including this group of Bears, "checked into" the new opportunity on SMJC's campus.

Physical Activities Building Come One—Come All

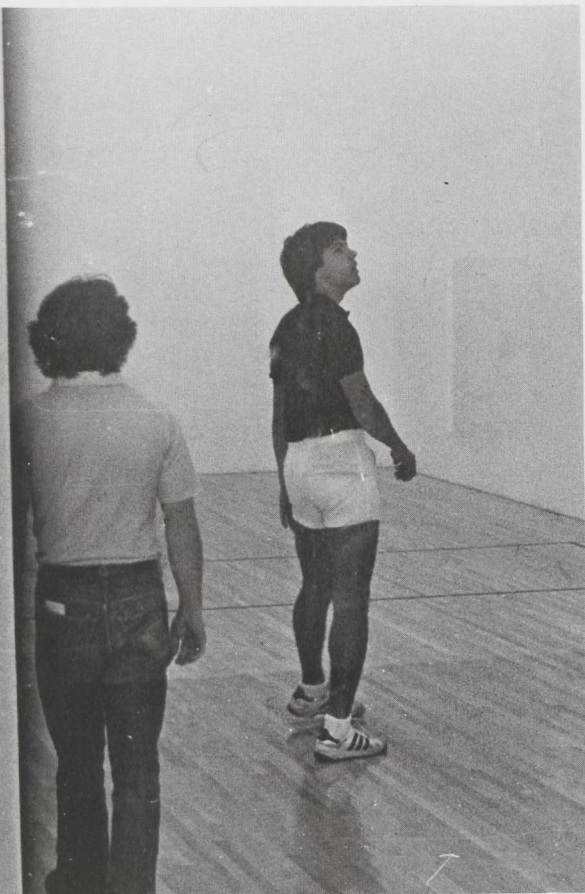

Darlene Tallerico rests before intramural practice begins.

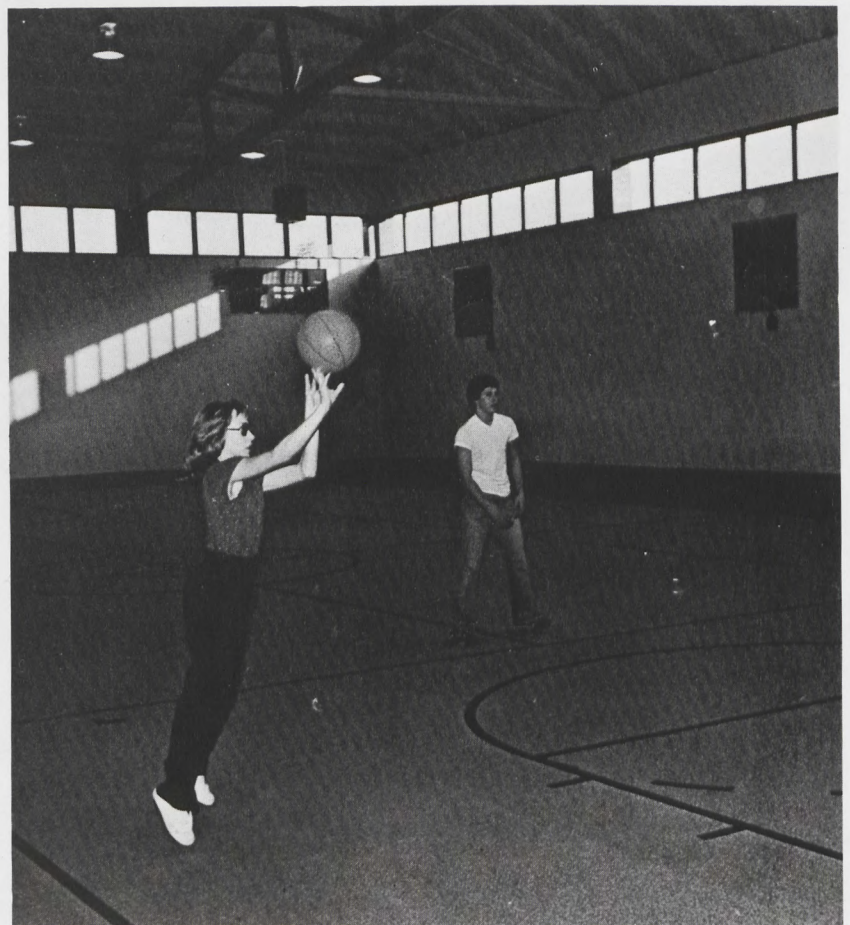

Racquetball is an exhilarating sport. Here, both players are out of breath.

Mattelyn Cassels practices her jump shot before intramural practice begins.

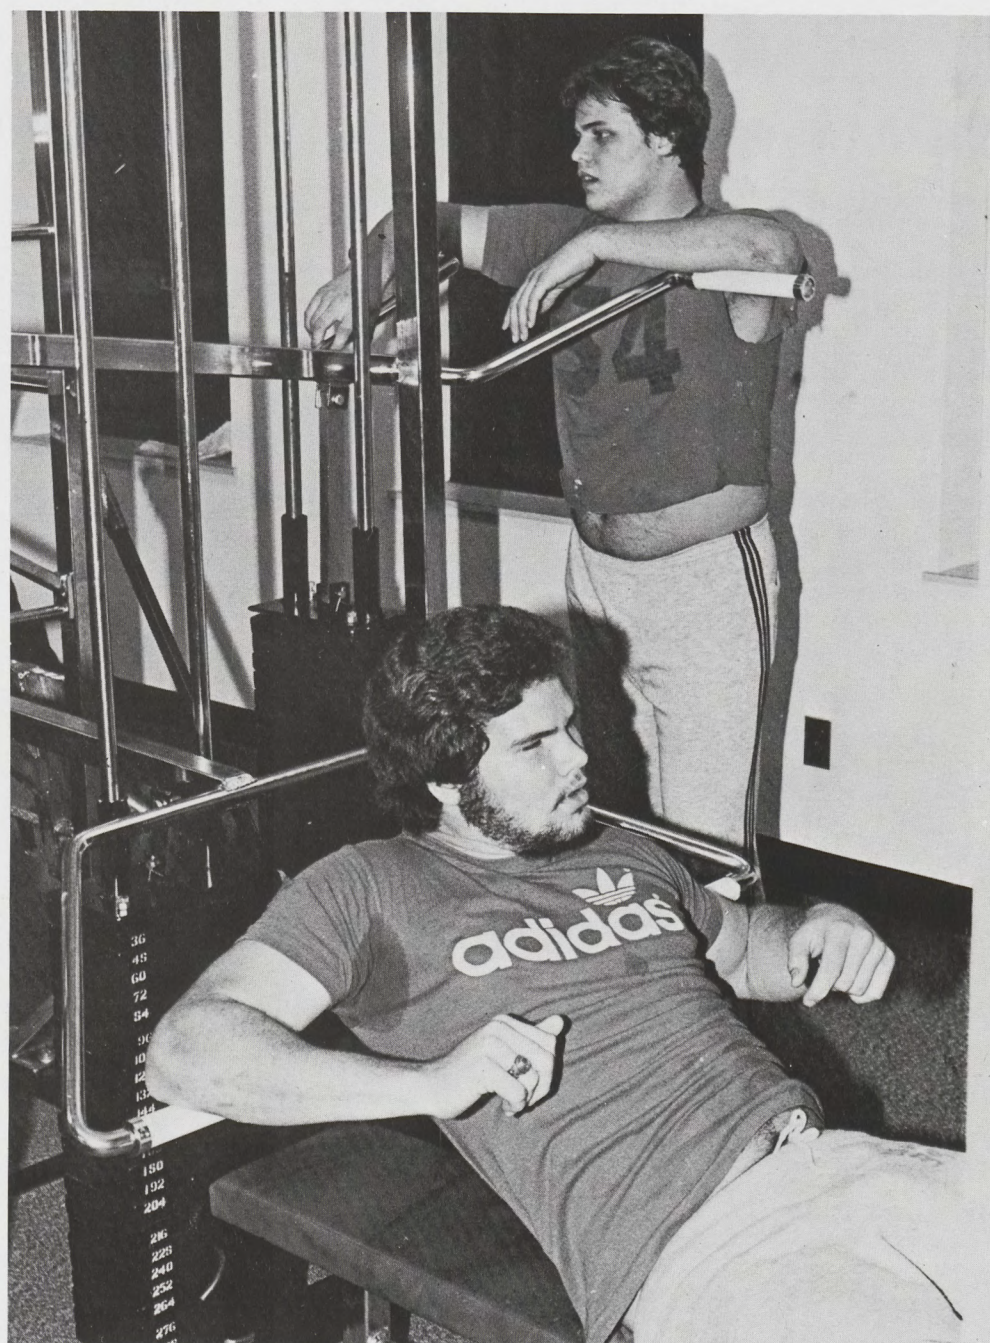

Kendall Turnage and Steve Holston inspect the new handball courts.

Karen Clark and Tonya Rawls realize that playing racquetball takes energy and concentration but is fun throughout the game.

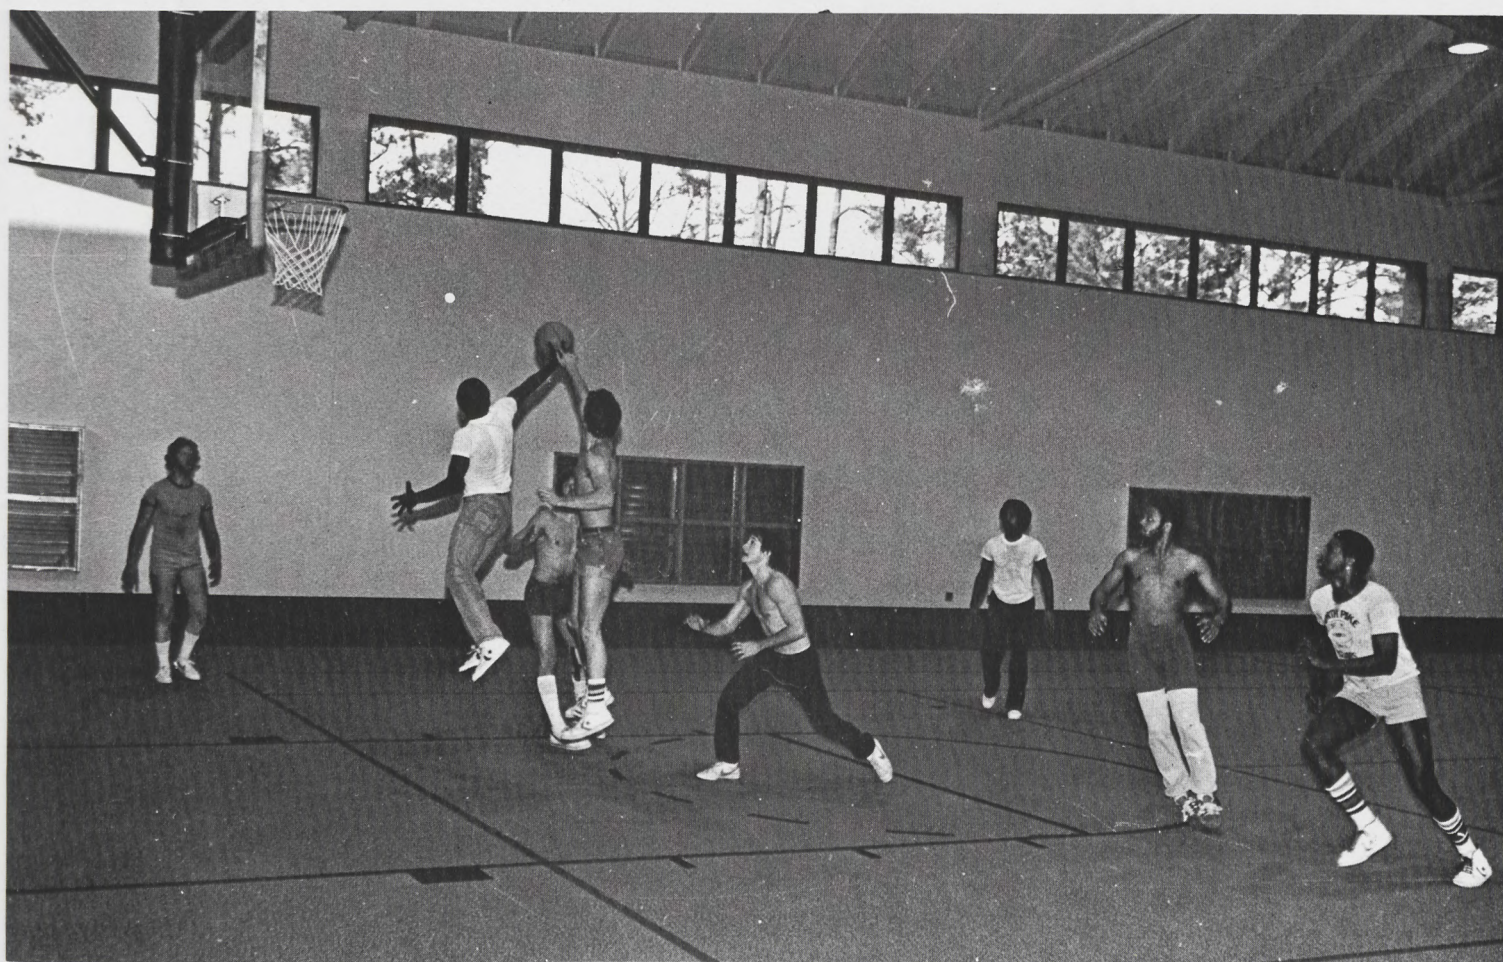

Let's Get Physical

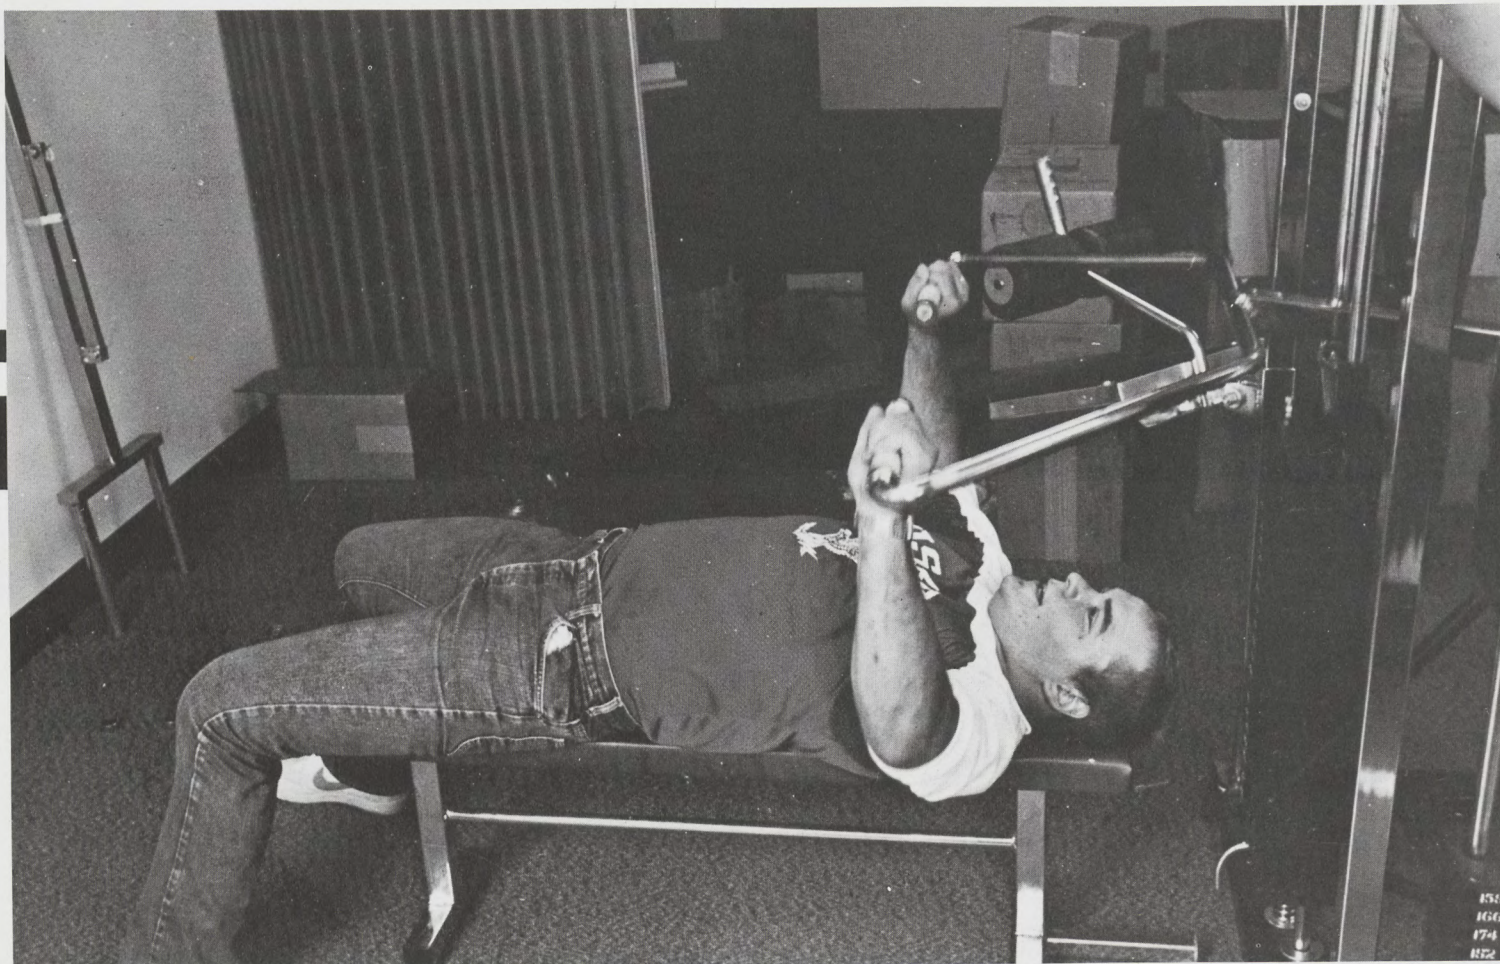

Neil Edmonds and Ken Jackson take a breather after a hard workout.

Sam Magee challenges Shelia Brock to a game of Racquetball.

Intramural teams began practicing for the upcoming competition.

Patrick McCabe tries out the weight machine in the newly opened Activities Building.

Bears of All Shapes And Sizes Getting Into Shape

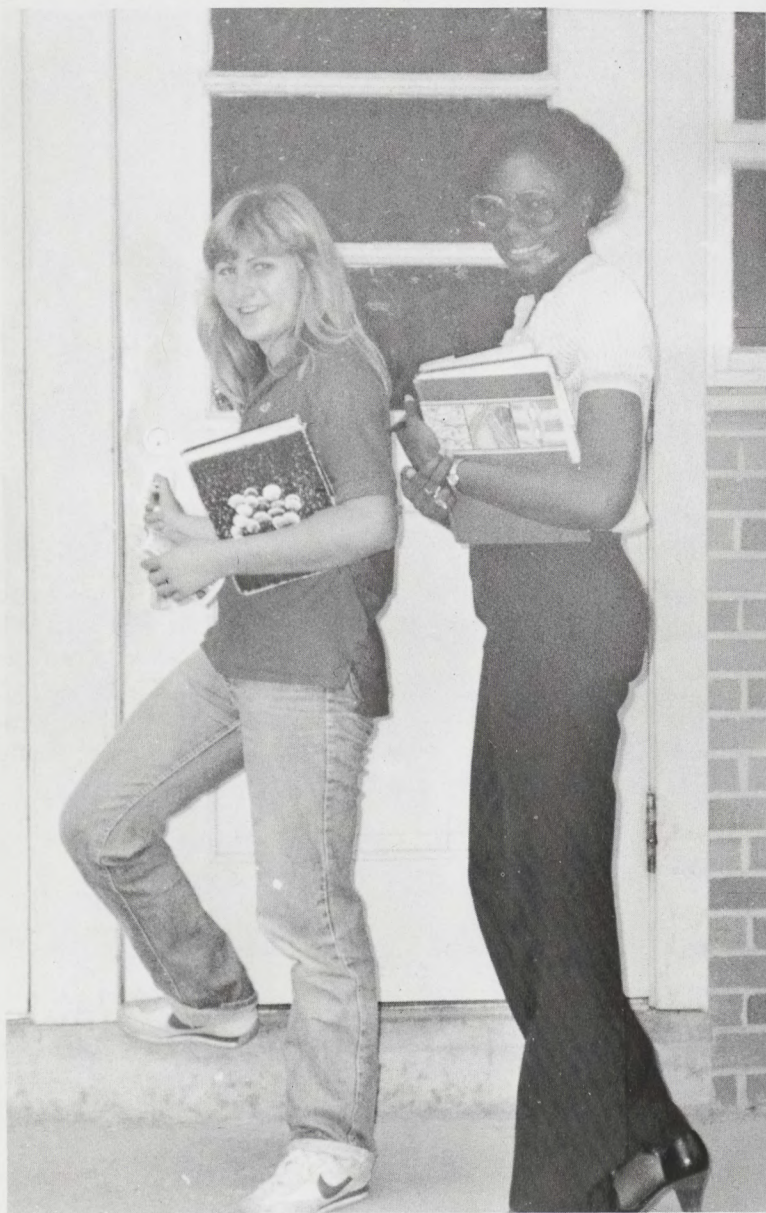

Ken Jackson, Neil Edmonds, Kyle Hux, and Trent Foreman relax after a rough workout.

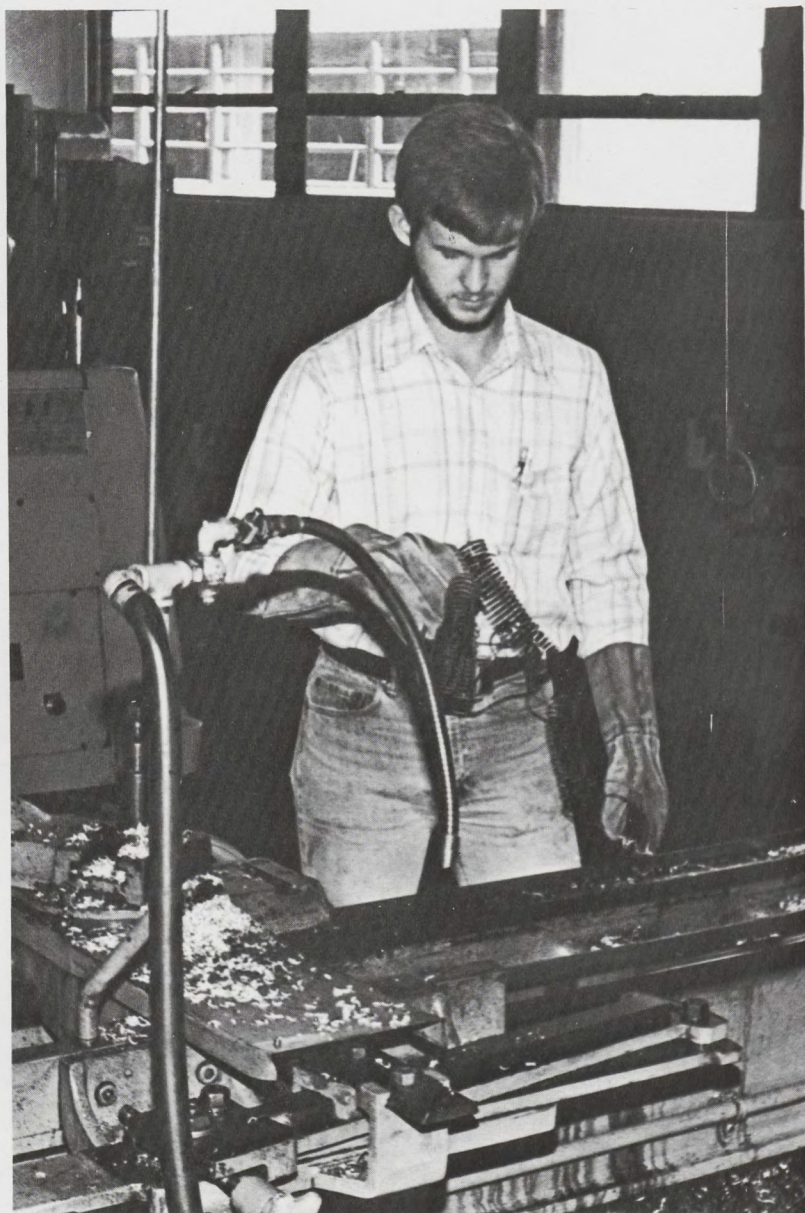

Bryan Alford tries his hand on the new weight machines.

Jerri Blalock and Carolyn Wallace enter Student Services Center for tutorial assistance and counseling.

Jay Michael finishes a project in the Vo-Tech center.

Michelle Carley and Phyllis Barr listen carefully as Mr. Turner explains an experiment in physics lab.

Academics-from Vo-technical trades to biology are an important aspect of SMJC. In these departments one will learn his trade that will support him in the future.

The opportunities in the field of academics at Southwest are many-too many to be passed up.

Nursing ...
A Class
That Cares.

The LPN class practice mouth to mouth resuscitation on Resusa Ann.

Mrs. Patricia Foy was one of many who were capped last semester.

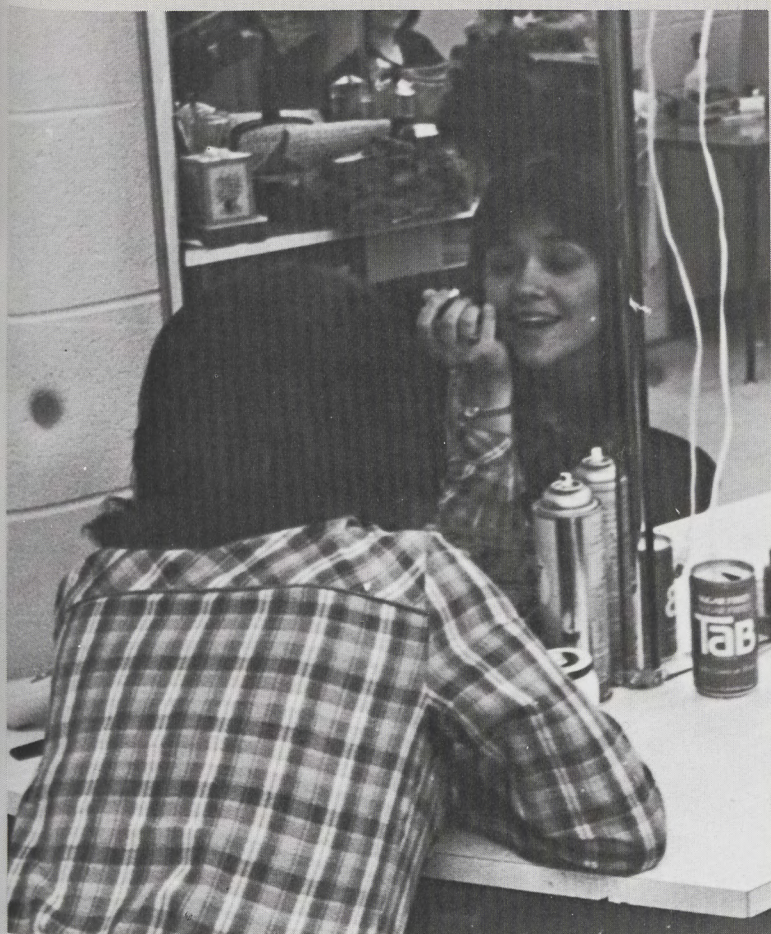

Becky Walter finds extra-long hair quite an experience to work with as looks begin to change.

Tired from a day's work, she takes time to work a brain teaser game.

Lots of "dummy" practices are necessary before the "real McCoy" walks in for a change. Here, a student styles the versatile mannikin.

Cosmetology Skills Come in Handy— Everyday

One of the most interesting parts of the vocational training at Southwest is the Cosmetology Department. Students learn fundamentals of hair design and make-up applications, but they also use these skills everyday. For many people, the cosmetology department is one not to pass up.

Renee takes time to freshen up before an important appointment.

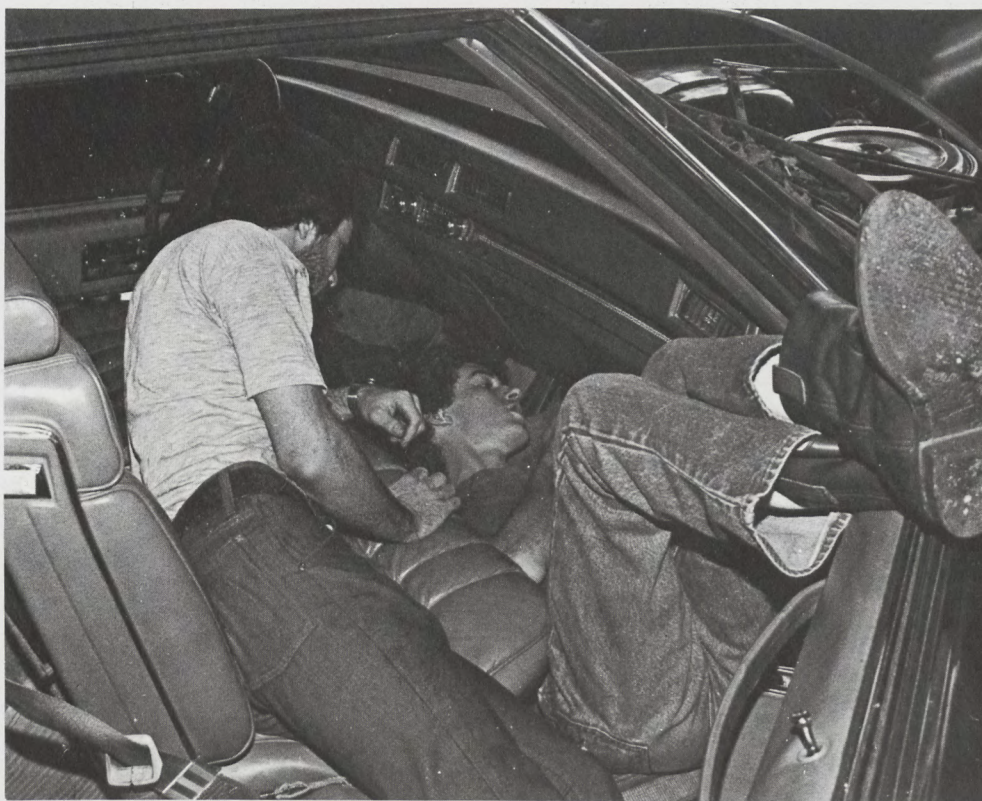

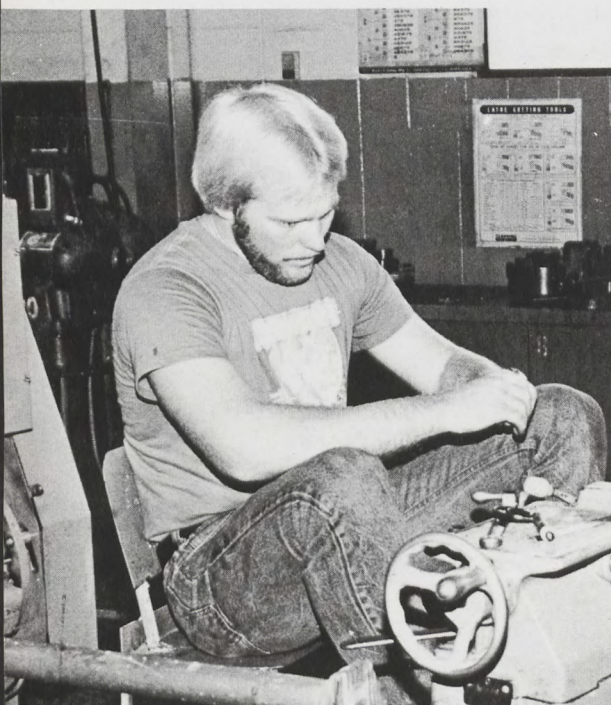

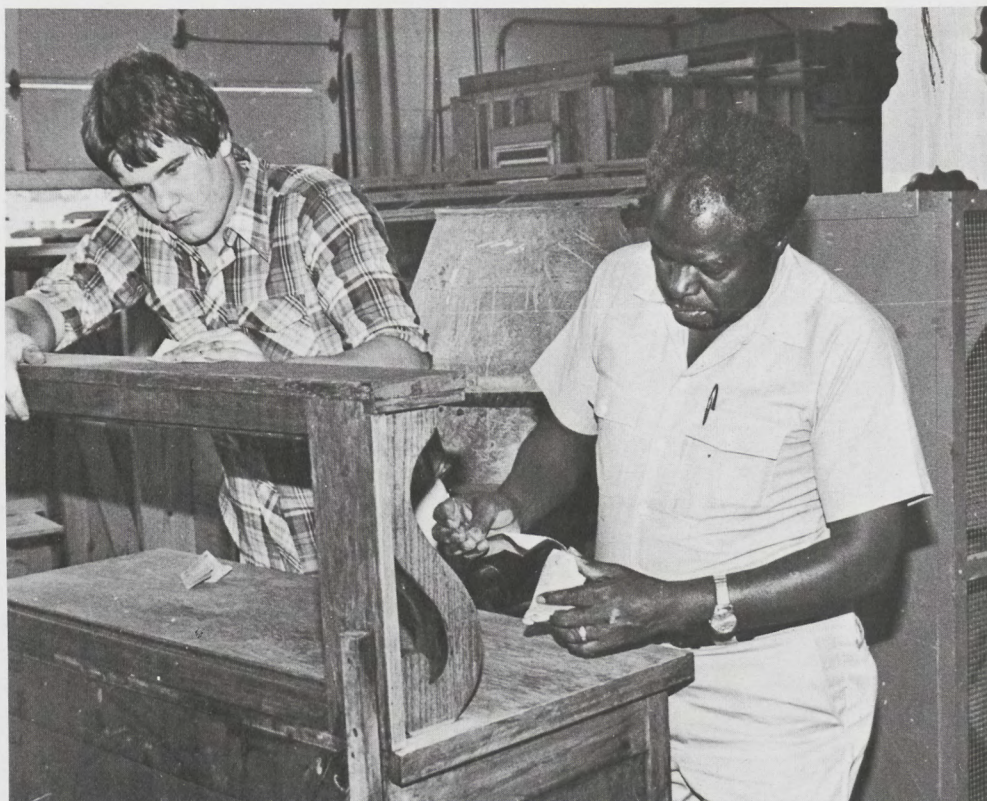

Streaking hair becomes a group project.

Vo-Tech Does It All ...

David Hall puts his finishing touch on the soon-to-be-beautiful cabinet.

Greg McDowell watches as they wait for their machine to cut off.

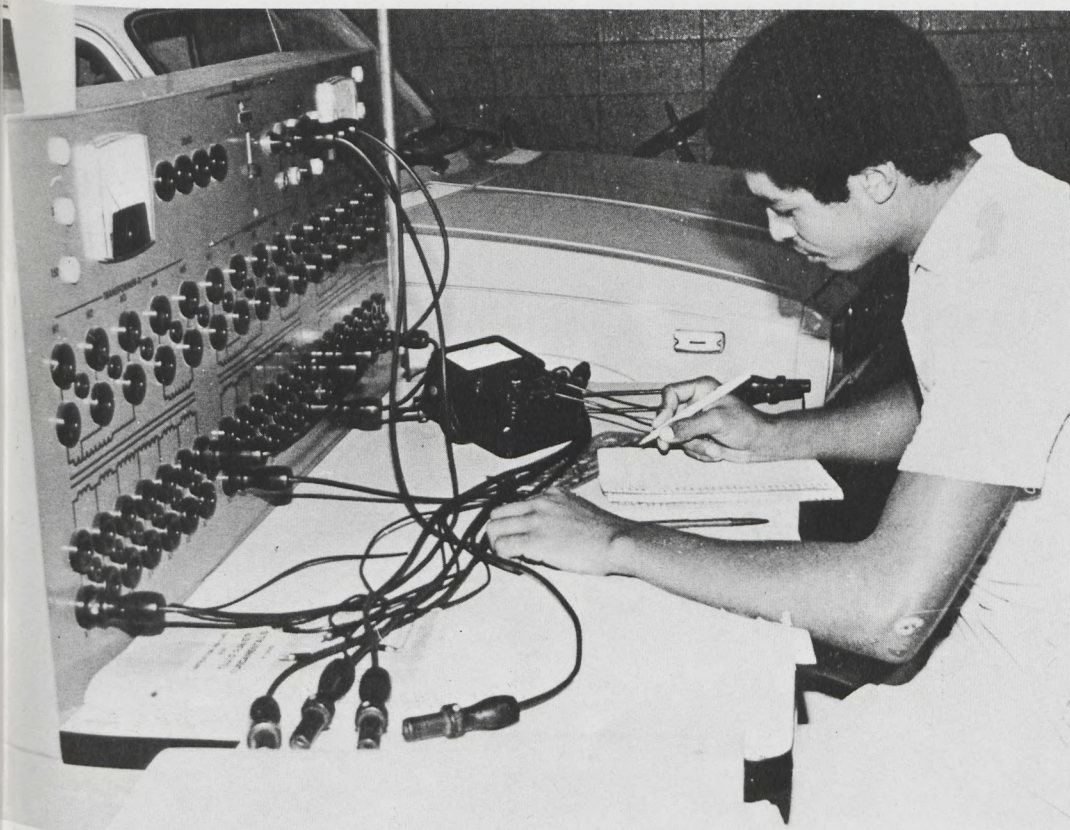

Clifford Jelks watches John Van Denwere work on their car.

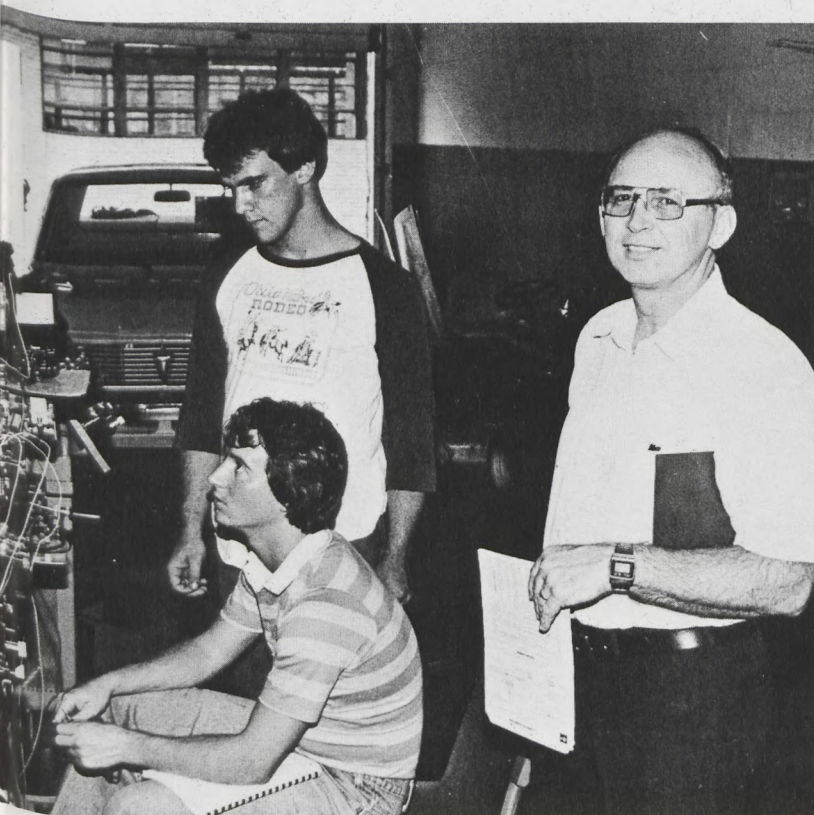

James Ross and Lamar Simmons working together in Wood Work.

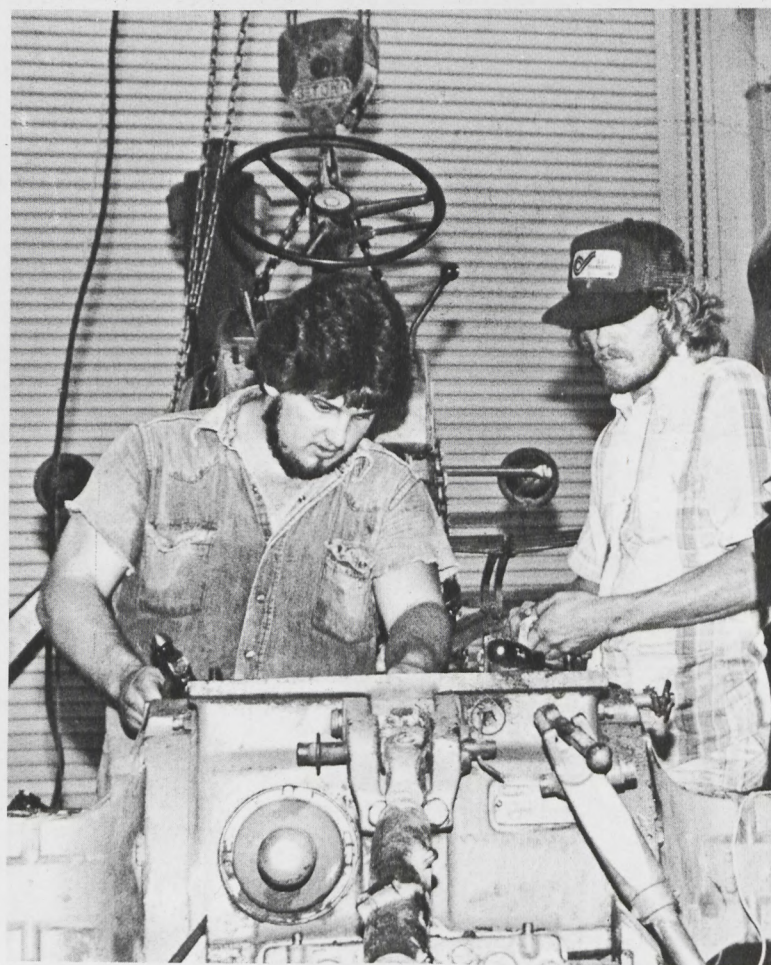

From Diesel Mechanics to Wood-work

Student works with electronics.

Al Sibley smiles as Randy Dale and David Rogers wire the generator.

Students work hard on a tractor.

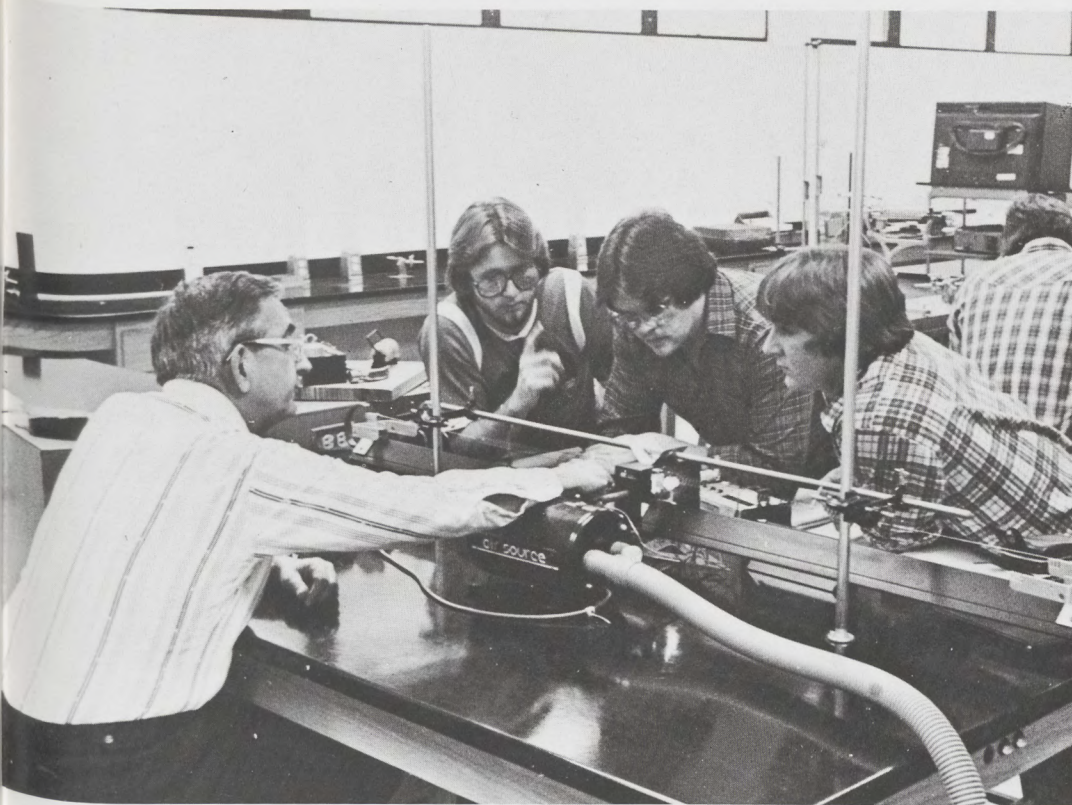

Mrs. Patsy King observes the students' dissection of the cat in Anatomy and Physiology.

Raymond Van Norman and Mike Kaberlein help answer the questions in Physics assignment.

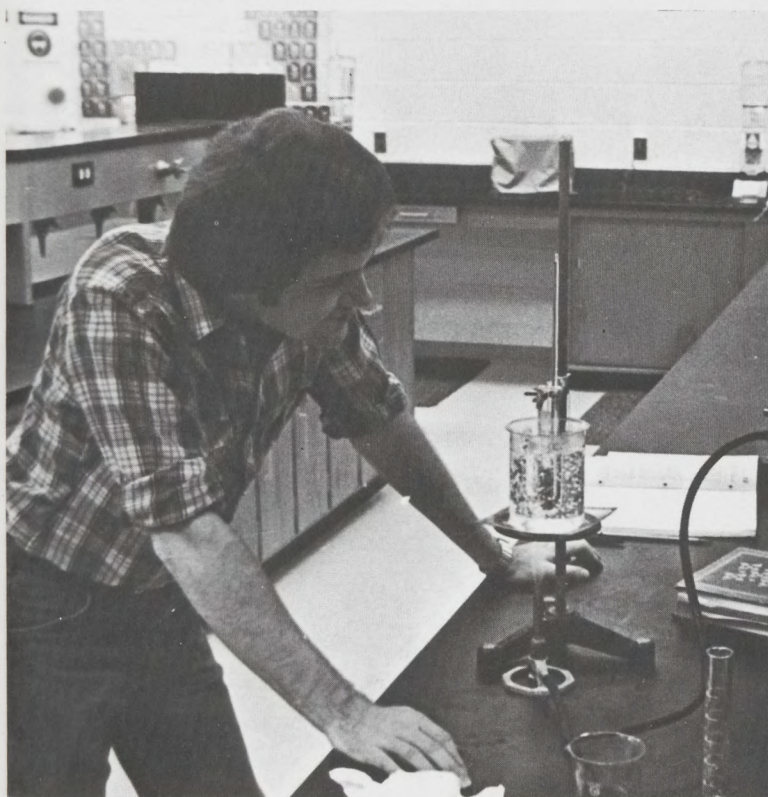

From Algebra to Zoology

The Math and Science Departments Excel

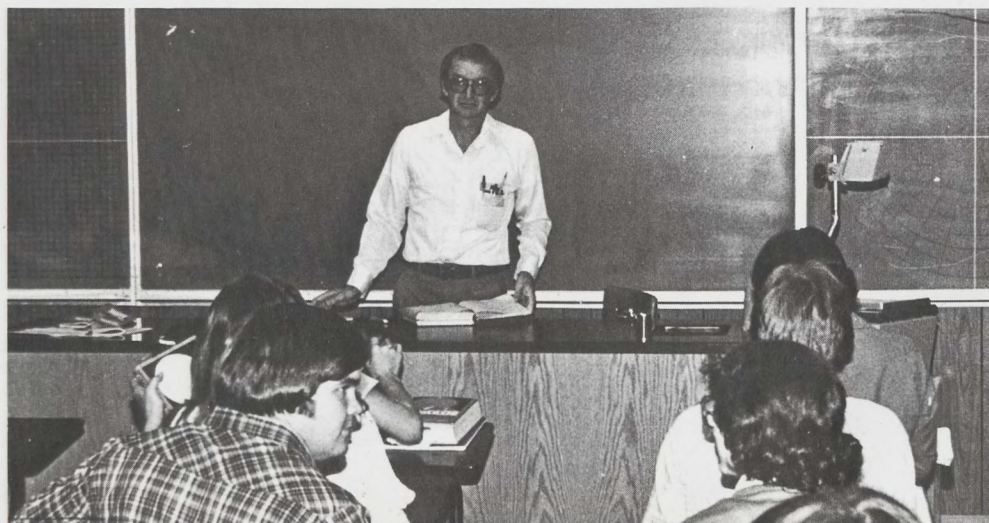

Will Moak, Marty Baker, and Daryl Dykes listen carefully as Mr. Turner explains a scientific process.

Checking and analyzing experiments is a major part of chemistry.

Chris Barrett watches intently as Carroll Brown prepares a physics experiment.

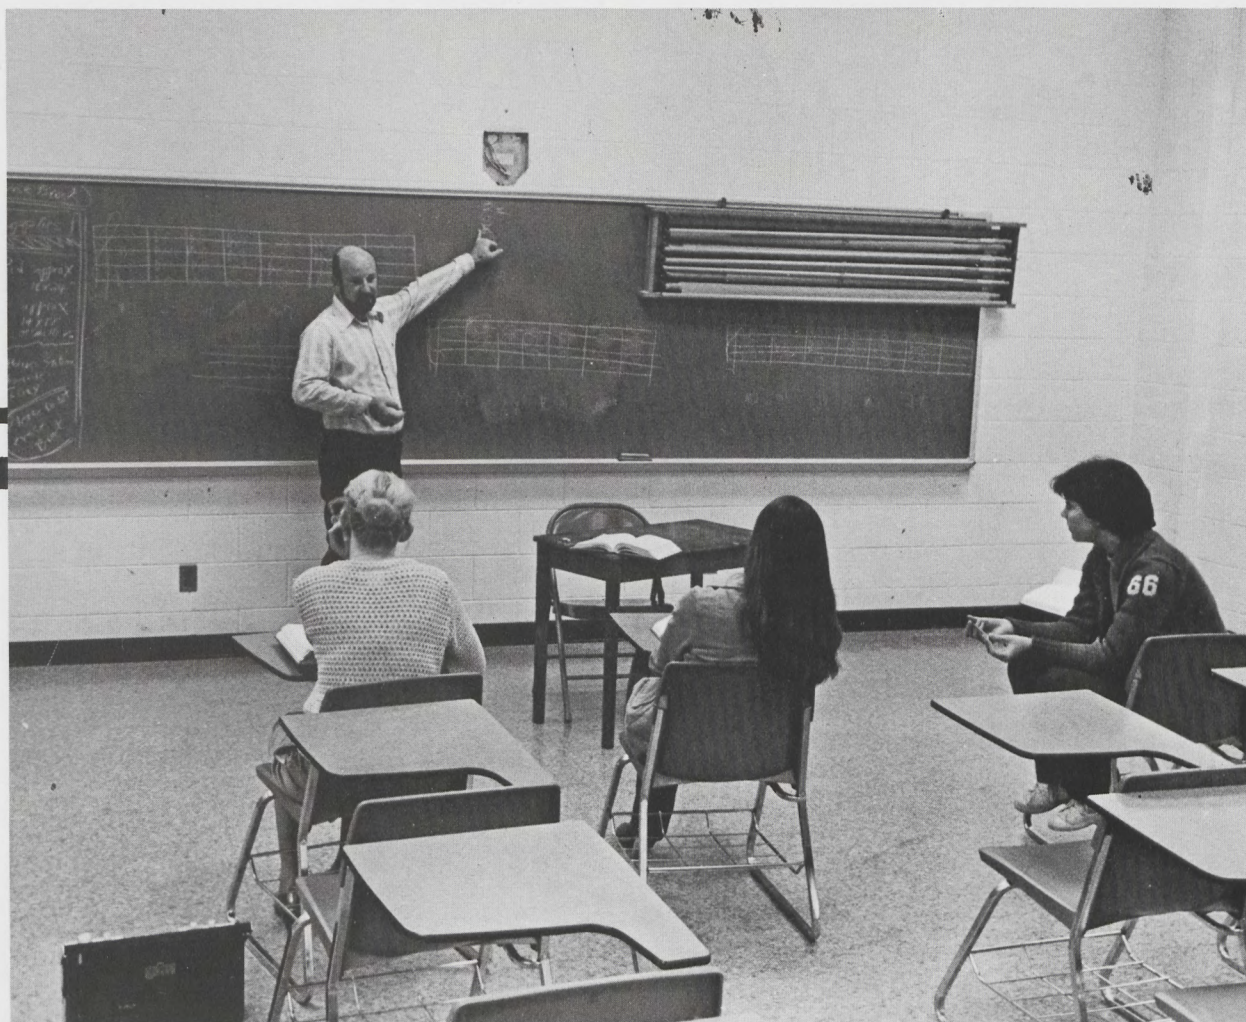

Mr. Thomas Calhoun pauses for questions before dismissing his calculus class.

M-M-M-Music Is T-The K-Key

Mrs. Brister teaches voice to an aspiring singer.

Mr. Shelton Whittington points out that different notes have different values.

Beverly Jackson, Rhonda Hutson, and Susan Cotton listen intently as Mr. Whittington explains tone.

History ... A look at the past and a view of the future.

Through history we discover our past, record the present, and look to the future. From Australopithecus in pre-history to General McArthur in World War II, history covers it all. History is a story of the sequence of events that molded and shaped our world to its present existence. At times it becomes necessary to look into the past, at past problems and their remedies, in order to decide what must be done for problems of the present. Let us not forget the importance of history in our decisions for the present and future.

History . . . facts that are too revealing to be passed up.

Mr. Fant's world history students listen intently as his lecture begins.

Julie Bass, Sharla Rawls, and Lisa Smith await anxiously the ending of another history class.

History students attentively watch the educational films provided by the library learning resources center.

From Shakespeare to Punctua- tion ...

Dr. Brown's English class studies compositions as well as literature.

Mrs. Williams makes Freshmen English a treat to learn.

Visiting of friends and reviewing of assignments take place before class begins.

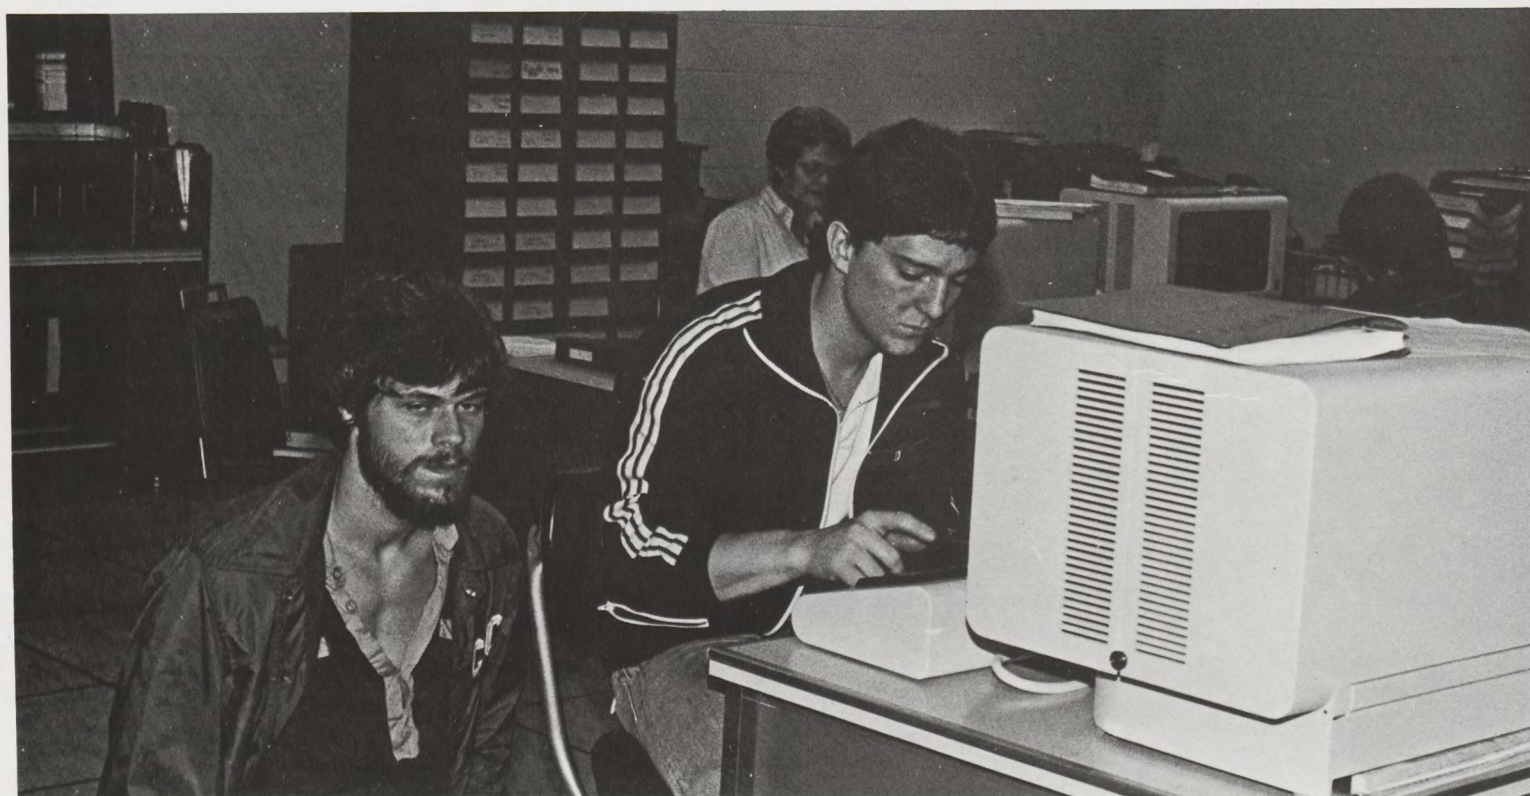

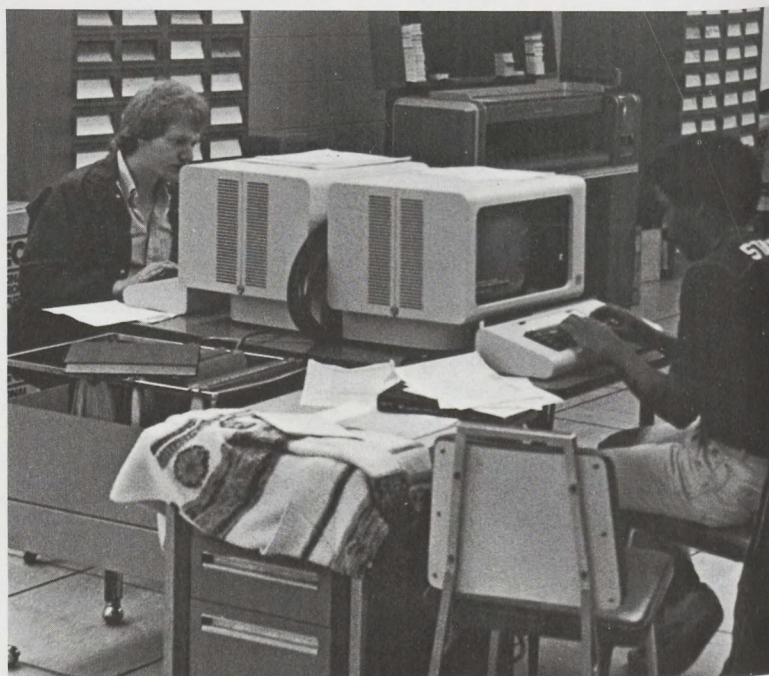

Concentration and completion of assignments are important in any class.

Let's Get Down To Business

Stanley Taylor and Randy Seale learn the technique involved in working a computer.

Bruce Coffey and J.C. Cash take computer science as serious business.

Operating business machines becomes a fascinating process to both watch and hear.

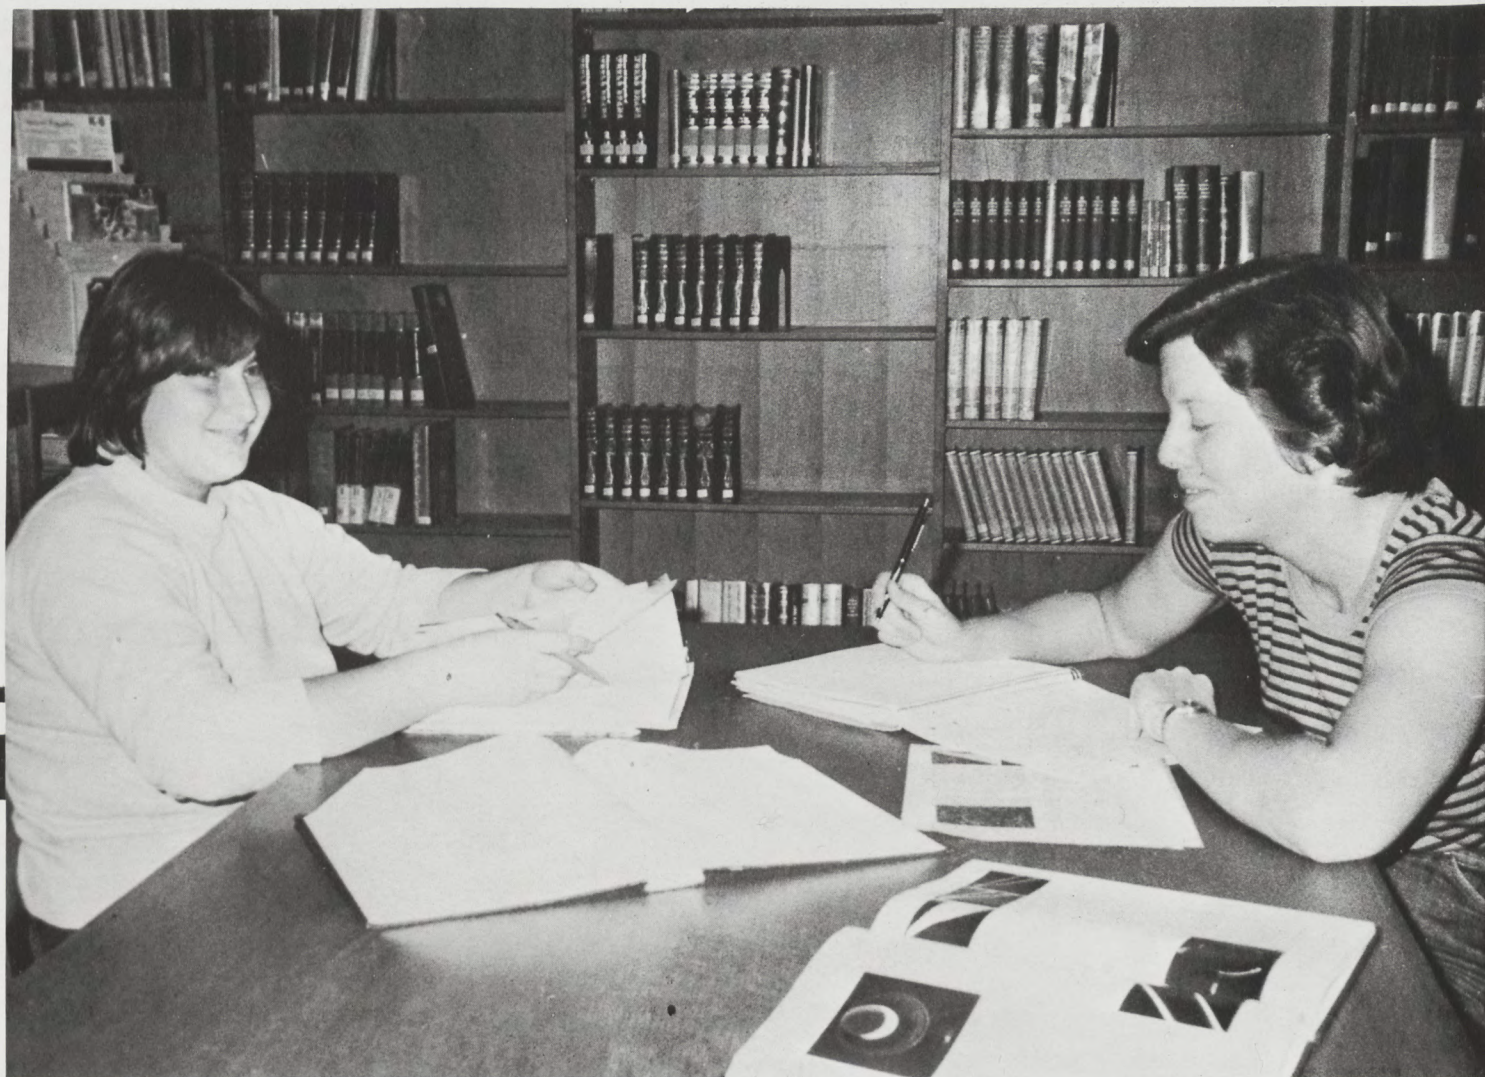

Accounting class sometimes requires the grouping of students before an assignment is complete.

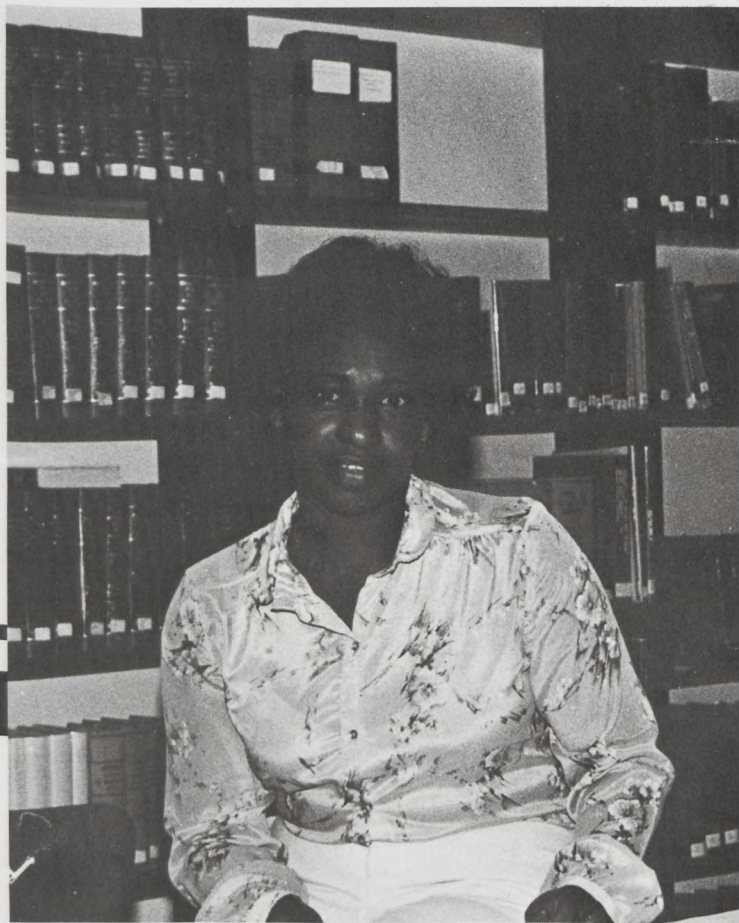

Gotta Question? Ask The Library

Mrs. Frances Murray—Librarian

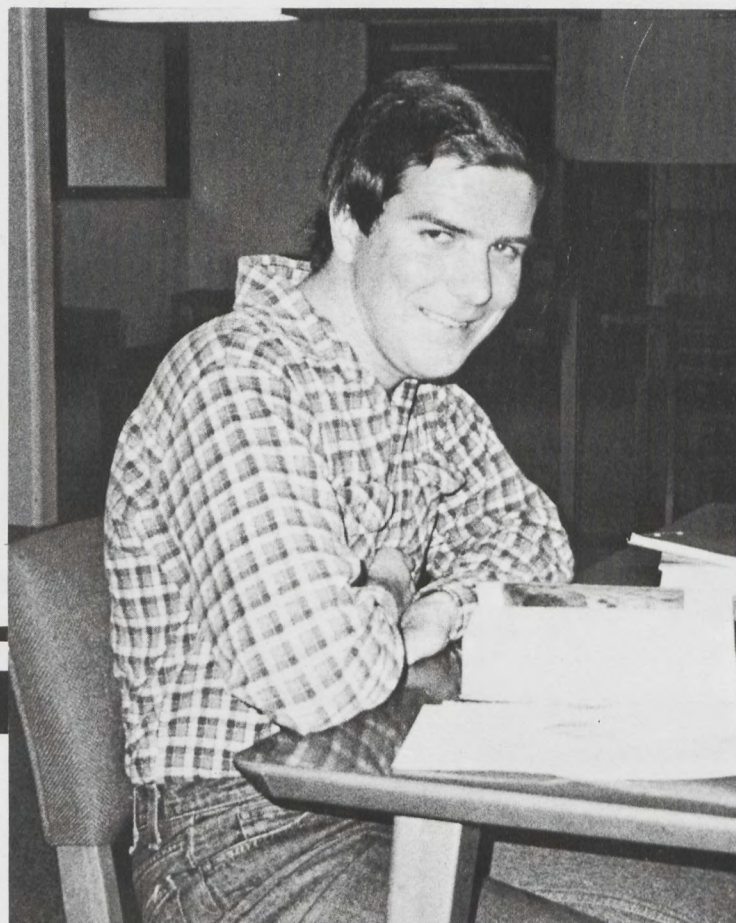

Diane McKenzie and Paula Dickerson work on Physical Science projects with helpful material from the library.

Jeffrey DeVall and Amy Price find studying in the library a special treat.

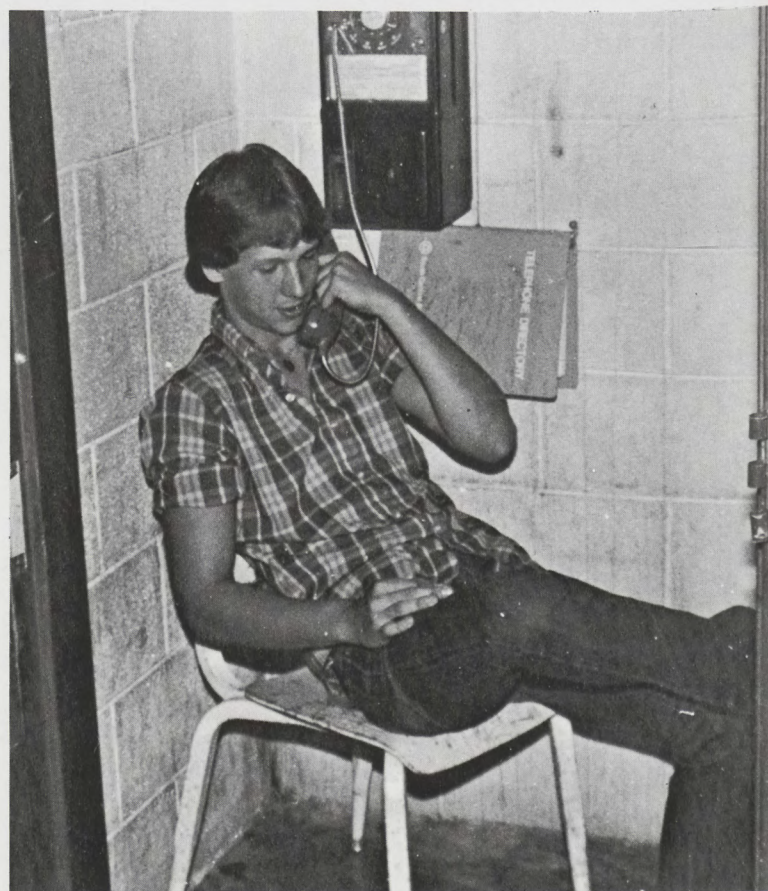

Cheryl McKinley—secretary of the library

Phillip Harrel finds studying alone very rewarding.

David Heximer finds time from his hectic schedule to call a friend.

David Williams plays Asteroids in the union while friends watch.

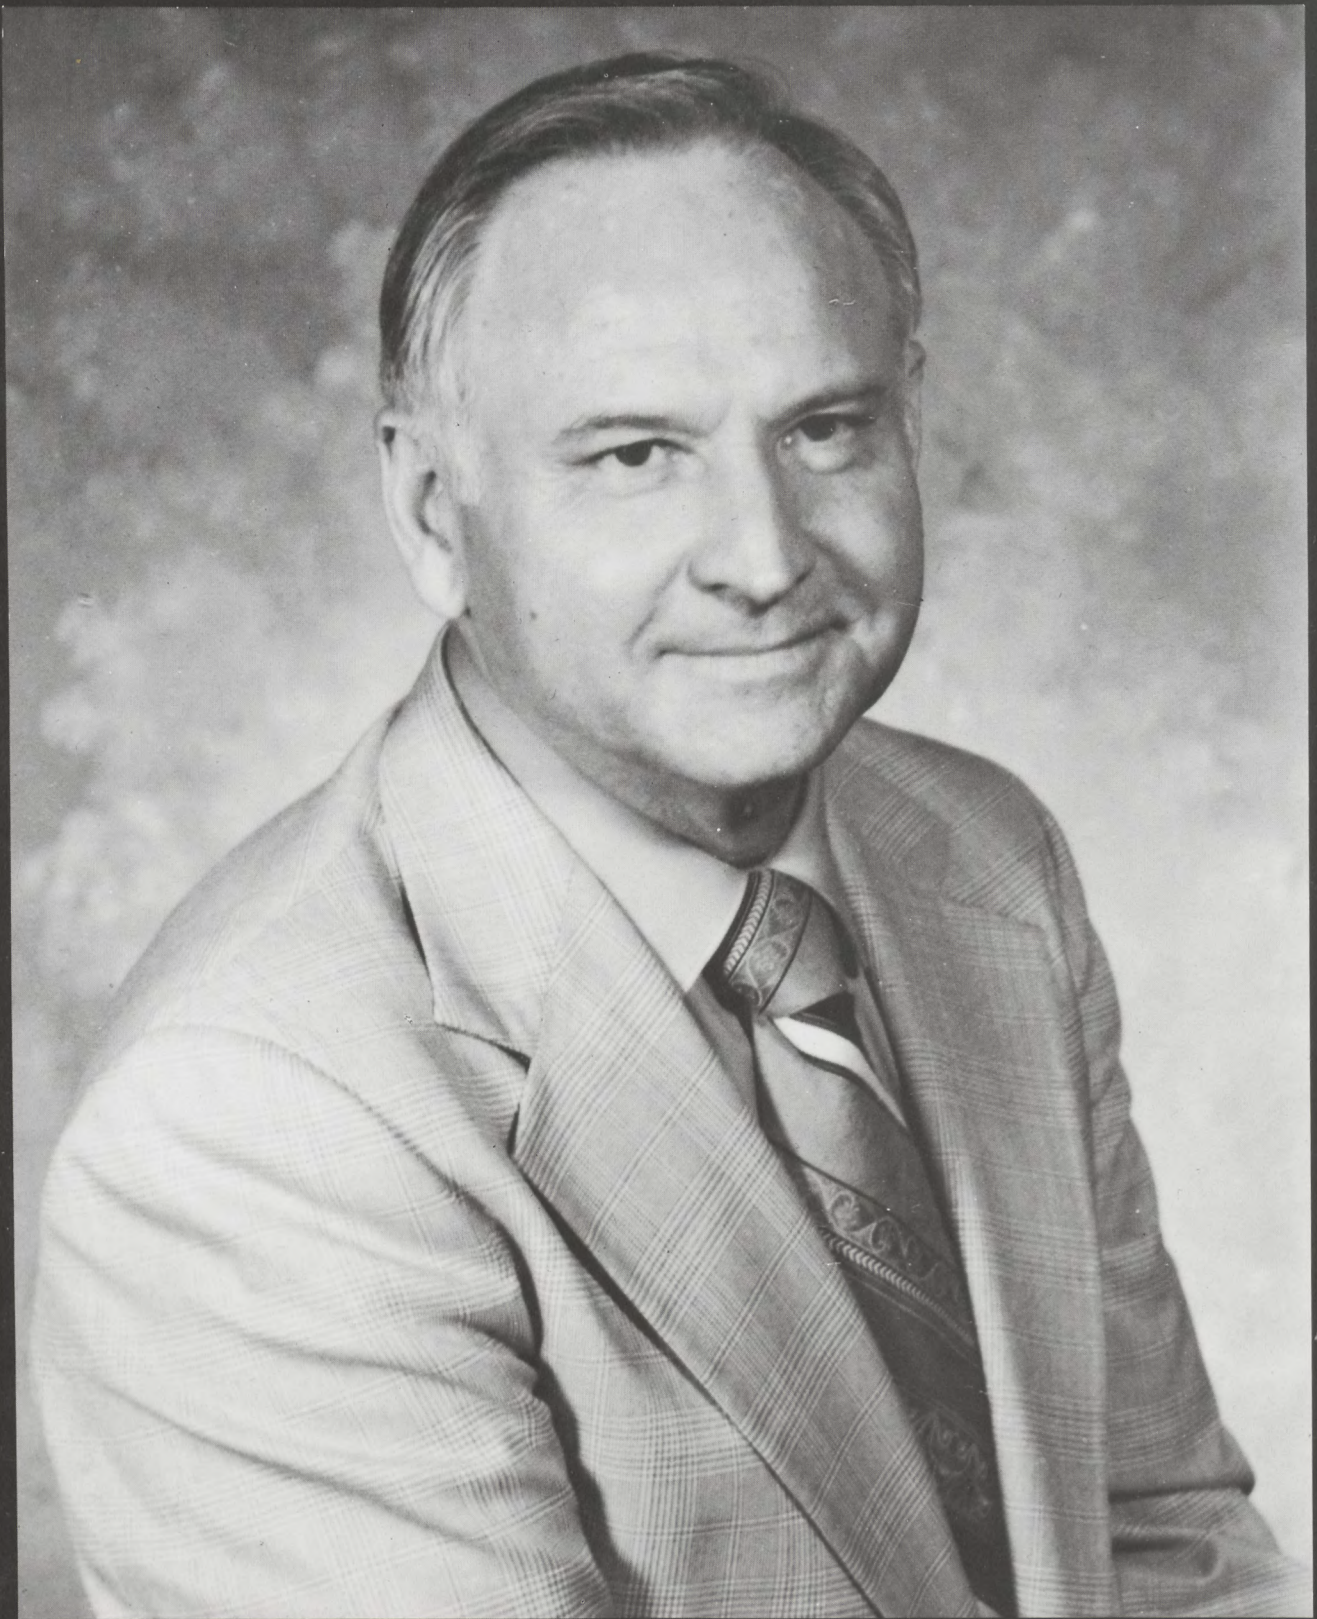

Michelle Carley, Tonya Rawls, Lisa Alford, and Vicki Welch enjoy both the treats and the socialization at the BSU Welcome Party.

People from all walks of life stroll the paths at SMJC. Some may be there for just a while, some for a lengthy stay. The faculty, administration, and staff make each day at SMJC a unique one. Whether the students are depressed after a loss or overjoyed after a win, the atmosphere at Bear Tech is a friendly one. Although the mixture of people may contain a variety, each person has two goals in mind: to choose the right path both academically and spiritually and to be the very best in whatever he does.

People People People

SMJC President
Horace C. Holmes

Our President

"There are realms in which arithmetic does not work," declared Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, who then explained, "It has no place in the kingdom of love. For instance, we are not to count the number of times we forgive. Love is not only blind; love does not know how to count. The addition and multiplication tables have their uses, but they are of no value when we are trying to find out what is possible for us to do in the presence of a human need."

And certainly one cannot measure the depth of President Holmes' love for and devotion to Southwest Mississippi Junior College. Nor could one assess the effect of countless hours of sleeplessness stemming from concern about a member of his "school family," a term used to mean every student and employee of the college.

A look at his significant accomplishments during the decade that he has served as president convinces one that he has, in truth, been wholly committed to his vision of meeting needs of whatever kind arose in the operation and development of this college.

First was the expansion of the academic program, including the addition of an Associate Degree of Nursing program, which now holds an enviable record of a 95% passing rate on the overall state board examination for RN's. Also added were cosmetology, diesel mechanics, R.O.T.C., law enforcement, banking and finance, start-up training, short term non-credit courses, and a remedial related subjects program in the vocational-technical area.

Further academic progress came with the institution of a basic skills program including tutorial assistance and expanded guidance counseling.

Physical plant improvements amounted to an expenditure of approximately seven million dollars in construction and equipment for both a men's and a women's dormitory, a fine arts building, a library learning resources center, married student apartments, vocational-technical building expansion, health and physical education building, a health occupations building, and faculty housing. Along with new buildings were additional streets and parking lots, football stadium seating, bridges, and a new water system.

Somehow, along with keeping our college running and growing, our president found time, too, to spend with his own family, to cuddle a granddaughter, to watch his sons in action on the football field or on the basketball court, to be supportive of his registered nurse wife's career, and to work in his beloved church where he served as both a deacon and Sunday school teacher. And with it all, he has remained a loyal friend to countless numbers of people whom he has known through the years.

To paraphrase our theme, then, "Don't pass him up." He meets "specs" all the way.

President and Mrs. Holmes enjoy evenings spent with their lovely granddaughter Miley Holmes.

"Papa Bear" Holmes urges the pep rally crowd to support the Bears in every aspect of the True Bear Spirit.

We have had good times, and a few sad ones, but through it all we have met the challenge and proved that we could make it. Though we were not always successful in academics and sports, we look to the future and cherish memories of the past. The friends we made and the ones we kept surely help us along the way. Without the friends and the unique experiences, our lives at SMJC would simply be a blurred memory. But thanks to the people and the times, the memories are vividly painted pictures that cannot be destroyed.

My Final Thanks

During the time I put this yearbook together, my thoughts strayed. I wondered if, years from now my children and yours will look through this yearbook at the great times we had here. Although the collection of memories has different significances to all, every moment spent on this campus will be remembered—whether bad or good.

Without the help of a few willing, hard-working friends and my understanding family you would not be reading this today.

My love and thanks go to Mrs. Craig, who so many times gave the extra get-up-and-go I needed when deadlines were approaching. She also gave the understanding and concern I thought no one else had.

To Nathan Martin I say "thank-you". Nathan skipped both restful nights and classes to do whatever was necessary—whether it be typing, doing layouts, or writing copy. Again, thanks Nathan.

LeWair Coker was also very instrumental in the making of this yearbook. Thanks, LeWair for the copy writing and the understanding. Only you knew what pressure had to be tolerated before a job was completed.

Thanks also to Vicki Welch who helped with the typing of these pages.

An extra ounce of love and thanks goes to my roommate, Tonya Landry, who lived with these pages scattered everywhere. Tonya, unlike many, gave her time, talents, and incentive that somehow helped more than anything else. Both her ear and pen will always be appreciated.

I would like to thank, last but not least, my family. Understanding, love, help and support was given without restriction. Many times when things looked dreary, my family was there to pick me up and dust me off. Thanks, again and I love you.

I hope when you look through this yearbook you will remember the good, the bad, the happy and the sad. It was all a part of SMJC that I hope you will tell your children about. It was something too good to be passed up.

P.S. I would like to thank Steven Rawls for the excellent pictures as well as the excellent support given—anytime.

My love and thanks

Colleen Stringer

Freshmen get into the SMJC spirit while rootin' for the Bears.

The SMJC Bear Band supports the Bear team in many tones.

Whether the supporters are in the stands, listening on the radio, or printed at the back of a program or yearbook, they are a vital part of the SMJC tradition. If not for these loyal, dedicated fans the Bears would not be as successful as they are.

Every ounce of support is greatly appreciated. The WHISPERING PINES staff encourages those who will to support "THE TRUE BEAR SUPPORTERS".
